INCOME TAXES ON STOCK DIVIDENDS CALLED ILLEGAL

HIGH COURT RULES THAT STOCK DIVIDENDS DO NOT REPRESENT TAXABLE INCOME

WRONG REPORT ON MARKET

Stock Market is Thrown in Turmoil
When Report Comes That Dividends are Taxable—Thousands are Affected by Ruling

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—Supreme court today held unconstitutional the section of the 1916 revenue law providing for the levying of an income tax on stock dividends.

The opinion read by Justice Pitney declared that the 1916 law disagreed with the sixteenth amendment, providing for federal income taxes.

The court held stock dividends are capital account.

"Stock dividends are nothing more than a book adjustment and represent the increased value of a corporation's stock because of increased earnings," Pitney said.

"Stock dividends show a company's earnings have been capitalized instead of distributed. They still remain property in hands of the company and the stockholder receives nothing which may be regarded as income."

"It is argued the stock dividends
may be sold, but that is not the question. The question is what is a stock dividend, and we hold it is capital,
and that it does not make any difference whether the stock dividend is saleable."

The decision is of far reaching importance because of the large amount of stock dividends that have been issued during the last years, most of which were for the alleged purpose
of evading the federal income taxes.

The majority opinion said in part:
"A stock dividend shows that the company's accumulated profits have been capitalized, instead of distributed to the stockholders or retained
as surplus available for distribution
in money or in kind should opportunity offer. Far from being a realization of profits of the stockholders,
it tends rather to postpone such realization, in that the fund represented by the new stock has been transferred from surplus to capital, and no longer is available for actual distribution."

The essential and controlling fact is that the stockholder has received nothing out of the company's assets for his separate use and benefit; on the contrary, every dollar of his original investment, together with whatever accretions and accumulations have resulted from employment of his money and that of the other stockholders in the business of the company still remains the property of the company, and subject to business risks.

CAPITALS

REINFORCEMENTS ARE SENT

British and Italian Increase Number of Allied Troops in Turkey to 53,000—Turks Have Large and Well Drilled Army

By United Press Leased Wire
London.—Allied and Turkish forces have clashed in Constantinople,
official messages today declared.
Martial law has been declared, the messages said, and 20,000 British, French and Italian troops made "an extensive military demonstration."

The Turks resisted and fighting followed, the messages added. No details of casualties were given.

Send Reinforcements
Paris.—British and Italian reinforcements are enroute to Constantinople and will swell the Allied garrisons in Turkey to 50,000 troops,
the Matin said today.

The 50,000 troops in Turkey, it added, will not include the 5,000 French soldiers now on duty in the Balkans.

Turk Army is Strong
Washington.—Forty three thousand and Turkish troops are under arms
in the area in which 20,000 French, British and Italian soldiers are reported to have clashed with the Turkish men, according to information here today. This is the strength of the Turkish regular army, which is said to be concentrated in Constantinople and Anatolia. No official word of the reported outbreak of fighting in Constantinople had reached here, but military men have been expecting a fight.

The Turkish nationalist forces,
which are led by Mustafa Kemal,
are mainly in the village of Aidin,
where there are from 10,000 to 15, 000 under arms. There are also known to be 5,000 nationalists troops in Anatolia.

In Asia Minor the British have troops at Koniah and along the Black Sea; there are Greek troops at Smyrna; Italian forces are at Konich and Aidin, and there are French forces at Cilicia, Syria and Angora.

Rule Resigns As Assessor Of Incomes

State Official Leaves Office April 1—May Be Associated With Local Furniture Firm—Examination Is Required

Albert C. Rule, assessor of incomes for Outagamie and Waupaca counties for the last five years, tendered his resignation Saturday to take effect April 1. As the position is under the Wisconsin civil service commission, his successor will not be announced until after an examination is held. It is possible that the office will be temporarily filled by a man from the office of the Wisconsin tax commission at Madison. While neither Mr. Rule nor the firm would confirm it, a report is in circulation to the effect that the former income assessor will become associated with the Saecker-Diederich company, which is planning to expand its business. Mr. Rule succeeded Thomas Flanagan, superintendent of the county insane asylum, in the office
he has just resigned.

Mexican Troops Gathering at Juarez Preparatory to Pursuing Ban-

can Held For $50, 000 Ransom

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—Francisco Villa is
"on the warpath" in Chihuahua, according to official dispatches received here today.

On March 4 he captured a train near Chihuahua City, kidnapped Joseph Williams, an American engineer, and made a speech threatening to take other trains and towns in that section at will, a state department message received today said. Williams is held for ransom.

The attack on the train was made by a force of 150 armed men under the personal direction of Villa, according to the state department. A number of the people on the train were killed by the bandits, although there are no reports of injury to Americans.

R. W. Black, an American salesman, and Robert J. Pelletier, another American were robbed. The train was burned.

Black gave the following account
to James B. Stewart, American consul at Chihuahua City:

"Two explosions derailed the train. About half of the guard of fifty was killed in the fight. Two train conductors were executed. A Sovian was hung, and about five Mexican passengers, attempting to escape, were shot. Joseph Williams, an American, was carried off for ransom, while I and Robert J. Pelletier, another American, and all other passengers were robbed and set free.
The entire train was looted and then burned."

RUSSIANS WANT TO TALK PEACE WHILE ATTACKING POLAND

POLISH ARMY THUS FAR HAS SUCCESSFULLY REPELLED RUSHES OF THE SO-VIET FORCES

By United Press Leased Wire
Paris.—Alexander Vaidyaevod, Rumanian premier, has accepted the proposal of M. Tchitcherine, foreign minister of soviet Russia, to negotiate peace, according to advices from London.

At the same time, other reports said the long-heralded attack of the soviet armies upon Poland had started. So far it was said the Poles have defended themselves successfully.

Polish statements said the bolsheviki were repulsed with heavy losses.
The coming conference of Baltic states, not including Lithuania will first seek the union of the eastern countries," General Pilsudski, Polish leader, declared in an interview telegraphed here.

"We will not enter into negotiations with the soviets without consulting all elements interested," Pilsudski said. "Lithuania will not participate because her frontier does not touch soviet Russia. We will never consent to negotiate peace under menace of the reds."

Poland's troops, the general added,
does not fear the present Bolshevik offensive.

FEAR U. S. STEAMER IS SUNK IN STORM

SHIP FOUNDERS AFTER CREW IS REMOVED—OTHER AMER-ICAN SHIPS ARE IN DISTRESS

By United Press Leased Wire
New York.—Belief that the 3,500 ton shipping board steamer Guilford had sunk after being abandoned by her crew yesterday off Nantucket sound shoals tonight, was expressed by the information bureau of the naval radio station here today.

The Guilford, bound from Norfolk
for Boston with a cargo of coal, sprang a leak Saturday night and sent out urgent calls for assistance yesterday, finally reporting that all five officers and the crew of 38 had been taken off by the Pocahontas. The rescued men were later transferred to the destroyer Dale, which took them to Newport, R. I.

Aid was being rushed to the steamship Lake Ellithorpe today by the coast guard cutter Seneca. The Lake Ellithorpe reported yesterday she had lost her propeller and was being driven by a seventy mile gale toward Sable Island.

Late reports from the Atlantic transport line freighter Maine indicated the crew of that vessel had rigged
a jury rudder to replace theirs, lost in the storm about 300 miles west of Queenstown. She was not in immediate danger.

RAIL EMPLOYEES MEET TO CONSIDER STRIKE ORDER

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago.—Representatives of the brotherhood of maintenance of way employees and railway shop laborers will decide today whether to call the 400,000 members of the organization
out on strike, officials announced
when they resumed their general conference here today.

Regional meetings of representatives to the brotherhoods have been held during the last two days to determine whether the sentiment of the men favors giving arbitration provisions of the new railroad bill a chance to operate or an immediate general strike.

"We have had a hard time holding the men in line," officials agreed today as the session opened. Some expressed the opinion that unless a strike is ordered by today's meeting brotherhood members will break away from control of officials.

Demands of the brotherhood for increased wages were first presented six months ago. Action was delayed by a request from President Wilson.

Total imports of wool for the 11 months ending Dec. 1, 1919, were 426,884,560 pounds, as against 418, 580,374 pounds in the same period
of 1918.

Must Accept My Proposal, Wilson Says

President Tells Europeans That Dispute Between Italy and Slavs Must Be Settled According to His Ideas of Justice.

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—President Wilson is determined to hold out for a settlement of the Adriatic dispute in line with his ideas for justice for Jugo-Slavia, according to the interpretation placed today by officials upon the president's reply of March 4 made public by the state department to the note of the British and French premiers of Feb. 26.

President Wilson rejected the invitation of Premiers Lloyd George and Millerand to join them in a proposal to Italy and Jugo-Slavia to negotiate directly between themselves an adjustment of the Adriatic question, on the basis of withdrawal of the proposal of Dec. 9, which was subscribed to by the United States and all other proposals of the Allies.

In conclusion Wilson stated he "cannot accept as just the implied suggestion of his responsibility for the failure to reach a solution" and
"ventures to express the earnest hope that the Allied governments will not find it necessary to decide on a course which the American government in accordance with its reiterated statement will be unable to follow."

The president said that he "would gladly approve a mutual agreement between Italian and Jugo-Slavia governments reached without prejudice
to the territorial or other interests of any third nation" but that he "cannot possibly approve any plan which assigns to Jugo-Slavia in the northern districts of Albania territorial compensation for what she is deprived of elsewhere."

If Italy and Jugo-Slavia prefer to abandon the project of the free state of Fiume as proposed in the plan of Dec. 9 and desire to limit the free state to the city of Fiume, placing the sovereignty in the league of nations
without either Italian or Jugo-Slavia control, the president stated "then the government of the United States is prepared to accept his proposal and is willing under such circumstances to leave the determination of the common frontier to Italy and Jugo-Slavia."

TEUTONS PEEVED AT REFUSAL TO STAND WHILE BAND PLAYS

FRENCHMEN BEAT UP BY KAT-SER'S RELATIVES BECAUSE THEY SCORNE NA-TIONAL HYMN.

By United Press Leased Wire
Berlin.—Refusal of two French officers, attached to the French mission here, to stand when "Deutschland ueber alles" was played in the dining room of the Hotel Adlon last night, precipitated a general fight in which Prince Joachim Albrecht, relative of the former kaiser, is said to have been the aggressor.

The Frenchmen, Captains Kian and Rougven, were badly battered by the Germans. They were cut and bruised by bottles, glasses and candles hurled at them. Waiters finally succeeded in escorting the Frenchmen from the dining room.

Prince Joachim Albrecht, witnesses said, followed his usual custom in tipping the orchestra to play the German national song. The French party, consisting of the two captains, accompanied by another Frenchman
and woman, did not arise.

"Up, up," Joachim shouted, and other German diners joined in his command. A shower of dishes immediately hurtled toward the French officers. When the two captains attempted to defend themselves other Germans joined the prince's party in beating the Frenchmen, crying "out with the pigs."

The French mission upheld the two officers, declaring since the occasion was not official no recognition of the German air was required. It has not been decided, members said, whether the French will ask civil or military action against the attacking Germans.
It was reported today that Joachim
and his party were put out of the hotel after the fight.

MINERS MAY LEAVE JOBS BUT IT WON'T BE CALLED "STRIKE"

HARD COAL MINERS READY TO PRESENT DEMAND FOR SIXTY PER CENT
WAGE INCREASE

By United Press Leased Wire
New York.—Representatives of anthracite miners, in a preliminary meeting here today, were understood to have decided that in case their negotiations with operators extend beyond April 1, through disagreement on a new wage scale, "there may be a suspension of work—but no strike."

Officials of the tri-district executive board of the United Mine Workers of America, constituting the anthracite field, will meet with the operators tomorrow. At that time the miners are expected to present demands for a wage increase of about 60 per cent, a five day week and six hour day and a closed shop in their district. The present wage scale expires March 31.

At tomorrow's meeting it is believed the miners and operators will appoint a sub-committee of two or four men each, which will take up the miners' demands and attempt to reach an agreement before reporting
back to the general conference.

In April, 1917 the miners were granted a voluntary general increase of about 20 per cent, and in October, 1919, a similar raise was given them.

SENATE LIMITS DEBATE ON PACT RESERVATIONS

By L. C. Martin
By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—The senate today agreed to limit debate on reservations so as to get quickly to article ten.

Unanimous consent was granted
to limit debate on all remaining reservations, except that on Article X and the one on voting power to two minutes from each senator.

Senator Lodge asked for the unanimous consent agreement at the request of Senator Borah, leading the republican "bitter enders." In consideration of the agreement, Borah withdrew his motion to proceed at once to consider the article ten reservation which he gave notice last week he would make today.

There are but four reservations covered by the agreement. Democratic senators made no objection to limiting the debate.

Today's agreement is expected to bring the senate to article ten by mid-week at the latest.

ARGUE STATES RIGHTS

Dred Scott Decision is Overshadowed in Importance by Legal Battle Now Waging—Rhode Island Leads in the Scrap

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—The validity of constitutional prohibition is being fought out in a legal battle of attorneys for the federal government, the dry states, the wet states and the liquor interests in the United States supreme court today. A decision is not expected before April or later.

One of the greatest attacks ever made on any statute or part of the constitution, has been directed against the dry laws by the wet forces. It has drawn a vigorous defense of prohibition from the federal government and dry organization.

The issue today centers on whether prohibition is a valid subject for an amendment to the constitution and whether the Volstead law enforcing the amendment is constitutional. Probably 25 angles of attack have been launched against the two.

The contests over prohibition have developed into a legal battle between various states and between the federal government. The issue is in reality states rights and bears a striking similarity to the historic question of civil war days. In fact, one of the briefs for the liquor interests declares the issue now before the court is more important than the famous Dred Scott decision, which upheld state's rights before the war.

The line up in the court today finds Rhode Island vigorously contesting constitutional prohibition, which opposed to it are the federal government, 21 prohibition states, represented by Charles E. Hughes and the Anti-Saloon league.

New Jersey today will ask the court for permission to bring a suit
similar to that of Rhode Island.

Two cases in addition to the Rhode Island suit will be heard today. They are appeals from Massachusetts and Kentucky federal courts, which upheld prohibition, and which were brought to the supreme court by George C. Dempsey, a New England liquor dealer today and the Kentucky Distilleries and Warehouse company, Louisville.

The New Jersey case probably will not be argued before April 1 and the court has tentatively set April 12 as the date for argument on appeals from Ohio, which will determine whether states can by referendum withdraw their ratification of the dry amendment as that state has already done.

The government will be represented
by Solicitor General King, Assistant Attorney General Frierson, backed by Hughes and Wayne B. Wheeler of the Anti-Saloon league. Herbert
A. Rice, attorney general for Rhode Island, will argue for his state and attorneys for the liquor interests are William Marshall Bullitt, New York, Lilly Mayer, Chicago and P. H. Kelley, Boston.

In his brief for the brewers, Root
made the following contentions:

"The so-called eighteenth amendment was mere legislation will be not within the authority vested in congress and the legislatures of three-fourths of the states by article V of the constitution.

"Article V of the constitution of the United States does not authorize any amendment which directly or in principle tends to impair and destroy the reserved police or governmental powers of the several states and their right to local self-government."

"It does not appear that two-thirds of the houses of congress demand this so-called eighteenth amendment necessary."

"The so-called eighteenth amendment has not been ratified by three-fourths of the several states."

"The alleged eighteenth amendment vests concurrent power in the several states for its enforcement, which has been disregarded by the passage of the Volstead law."

WEALTHY MAN STEALS YOUNG SOLDIER'S BRIDE

By United Press Leased Wire
St. Paul.—Propped up on a cot in a French hospital just after one of the biggest battles of the world war, John Martin, 22, listened while his buddies joined professional entertainers in the melody—"I'm forever chasing rainbows."

Martin did not join in. He was sick—gassed—and he had just received a letter from his 22 year old bride:

"John, I'm sorry to burst the bubbles of hope and love—you have been blowing over there. I love another man, one who is wealthy and can give me the pleasures of life that I desire."

They had been married in Winnipeg, just before Martin enlisted.

That letter won Martin a divorce
before Judge Orr today.

John testified he had gone to Winnipeg and interviewed the wealthy business man. And he came to Minneapolis to talk to his bride.

"But it was no use," said Martin.

EXPRESS CLERKS REFUSE TO GO BACK TO THEIR WORK

By United Press Leased Wire

clerks of the American Express Company here today continued their strike for increased wages without signs of a break.

Danger to the city's food supply
through threatened strike of express trolley haulers and chauffeurs in sympathy with the clerks was averted when the wagon men refused their support.

An embargo on express effective

nouncement today by W. J. Mc-Grovey, secretary to the vice president of the American Express Company here.

CAR MEN SEEK PASSENGER AND BATTLE WITH BANDITS

By United Press Leased Wire
Minneapolis, Minn.—Three men were wounded early today in a battle with bandits who robbed the car
of the Modern Milk Company of $50.
A street car crew on a Nicolet Ave., owl car missed a regular passenger at 27th street. Knowing he was night watchman for the milk company they started looking for him.

They saw two men dragging him into the milk company office. Armed themselves with switch rods and controls followed the motorman and conductor followed. When they reached the office a fusillade of bullets greeted them. Ole Walgren, motorman, was wounded in the abdomen. Herbert Larson, conductor, was wounded slightly by four bullets. The watchman, recovering, aided in getting the wounded men aboard the car and ran it to a hospital. The car was riddled with bullets. The bandits escaped.

Felix Leister and Anton Ulrich

NO HOPE FOR LOWER TAXES FOR A YEAR

WAR TAXES MUST BE CON-TINUED TO MEET HUGE EX-PENSES, CONGRESSIONAL LEADERS SAY

(By Herbert Walker)
By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—War taxes must be continued, republican and democratic leaders in the house, in charge of revenue legislation, declared today.
No reduction can be made by congress this year, they asserted.

Republican Leader Mondell and Democratic Leader Kitchin, the framer of the present tax laws, joined in stating that the proposal of Former Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo for a billion dollar reduction in taxes and the deflation of a large bond issue to make up for the loss in revenue is impossible at this time and would imperil the whole financial structure of the nation. The high taxes must be continued to meet a war overhang of three billions in floating indebtedness, both believe.

Both leaders stated that it was the opinion of treasury department officials that another bond issue such as McAdoo suggests would have to bear an interest rate of six per cent, which would force the market value of outstanding liberty bonds down to such

APPROVE SENTENCES TO WAR OBSTRUCTORS

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington, D. C.—The supreme court today upheld the sentences prison from 12 to 30 months of officials of the Albany, N. Y., local of the socialist party for distributing propaganda to obstruct war work.

The government convicted Clinton
H. Pierce, Angelo Cro, Charles H.
Zeelman and Charles Nelson in New York courts for circulating a pamphlet entitled "The price we pay"
which was held to convey false statements for the purpose of discouraging recruiting and hindering the passage of the war in general.

Justices Holmes and Brandeis accused, as they have done recently in several espionage decisions.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ward and daughter Dorothy of Green Bay spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Max Willich, 1128 Elsie street.

A figure that the 29,000,000 bondholders among the American people would lose hundreds of millions if forced to sell their securities. Credit would be further inflated and the cost of living increased, they held.

APPLETON LOSES TO OSHKOSH AND FAILS TO WIN A PLACE

Wins From Ripon in Afternoon But Loses to Oshkosh at Night—Nee-nah Wins Tourney

Results of the Tournament
First place Nee-nah
Second place Marinette
Third place Oshkosh
Banner presented to team having best appearance and conduct—Nee-nah

Afternoon games:
Appleton 16, Ripon 12.
Oshkosh 27, Fond du Lac 13.

Night games:
Oshkosh 15, Appleton 8.
Nee-nah 16, Marinette 15.

After winning from Ripon in the afternoon games Appleton lost its chance for third place in sectional basketball tournament, when she went down to defeat at the hands of Oshkosh by a score of 15 to 8. The game was fast and from gun to gun was a battle for blood. Every man on both teams played a stellar game but Oshkosh's comeback in the second half swept Appleton off its feet. Appleton led at the end of the first half with a score of 7 to 5.

The whistle for the start sounded, the ball shot into the air from the referee's hands, the centers hit it, and then as if by magic, it shot into the basket from the hands of Jacobson. On a foul on Kubitz, Pugh scored a free throw and the board showed 2 to 1. Schowalter caked a basket from the middle of the floor and raised the score to 4 to 1. On a personal foul called on Reed, Kubitz made a free throw. Then on a difficult shot from the side, Pugh caged a basket and brought the Oshkosh score up to 3 against 5 of Appleton. Wood tallied from the middle of the floor. Both teams missed free throws but Pugh made a hard shot and again placed Oshkosh within striking distance. Pugh took a try at a free throw but missed and the gun for the half sounded. The score then stood 7 to 5 in favor of Appleton.

The second half started with a free throw by Jacobson on a personal foul by Lewis. Jacobson double dribbled and Pugh scored a free throw. Lewis managed to get down the floor and from almost directly beneath the basket squeezed another across. Pugh followed it with a free throw when Kubitz fouled. Appleton missed two free throws. Pugh had two chances at free throws when a double foul was called on Schowalter but flattered both. Then Pugh shot one from the extreme side and raised the Oshkosh total to 11. On a toss-up after a tie ball, Lewis shoved another across for Oshkosh. Both sides missed free throws. Reed came in and on a long shot from the side scored the last two points, the final gun sounding a few seconds later.

Appleton came back in the matinee game Saturday afternoon and defeated Ripon by a score of 16 to 12. Ripon showed a remarkable improvement in form both on defense and offense but was not match for the speedy Appleton attack. Coach Vincent had decided to save Jacobson for the evening game in case Appleton won the afternoon session, but found it necessary to use him against the greatly changed Ripon attack.

The game had scarcely started when Little fouled and Briese was given a chance at a free throw which netted a point for Appleton. Ripon followed it with a basket by Ludwig went down the floor and made a pretty shot. On a personal foul called on Courtney, Little added another free throw to the score. Briese reciprocated by adding a point on a foul called on Berndt. A few minutes later he repeated when a foul was called on Gray. With the score, three all, Wood caged one from the middle of the floor. Kubitz fouled and Little scored a free throw. Then Gray shot down the floor and nailed one at full speed. Again Ripon led, but lost the advantage almost immediately when Ludwig fouled and Briese added a free throw. They came back, however and Little scored a free throw that again put them in the lead. At this point, Jacobson was sent in to replace Courtney and the attitude of the whole team seemed to change. Hardly in the game, Jacobson whirled down the floor and put one in. No more scoring was done until a few seconds before the gun for the first half ended with Appleton leading by a score of 10 to 7.

Miller replaced Krebs for Ripon in the second period. Little scored another point when Briese pulled a personal foul. Both teams tried long shots but failed to connect. Little missed a free throw that was followed by a basket by Gray that again tied the score. Kubitz caged another basket for Appleton after Jacobson had missed a free throw. Jacobson added two more points to a basket, and brought the score to 14 to 10 in Appleton's favor. Then Briese on a pass from Jacobson, dropped another in the basket, making the last point for Appleton. A few minutes before the finish Gray tallied two more points for Ripon. Jacobson tried a free throw and missed and the final gun sounded the knell for Ripon. The score at the end was 16 to 12.

SCHOBER AND JAP TO MEET HERE MARCH 16

MEN WILL BE EQUALLY MATCHED AS TO WEIGHT AND SPEED AND FINE BOUT IS EXPECTED

The world's middle-weight wrestling championship will be at stake when Billy Schober, Indianapolis, and Matuda, the Jap, clash at the armory here March 16 in a finish bout. Promoter Elmer Johnson announced that the men had affixed their John Hancock's to contracts Saturday.

The two grapplers are perhaps the cleverest men of their weight in the world today. Schober is recognized as the champion in America, while Matuda carries a championship belt won in Japan.

This will be Schober's first bout here in which he meets a man of his own weight. "Billy" conceded Carl Zoll, Green Bay grappler, nearly fifty pounds in a tremendous handicap, and prevented the champ from showing his top-notch form. In Matuda Schober will have an opponent of almost equal weight, who knows every trick, every move of the grappling game. The Jap is unquestionably the fastest and trickiest mat artist there is, and Schober will be forced to extend himself to the limit.

Johnson is rushing arrangements to completion for the big bout, which is only a little more than a week away. Several good preliminary bouts will be carded, and the card will include bouts full of action from start to finish.

That the wrestling game is coming back strong in Appleton is evidenced by the keen interest which is being taken in the bout. Fans in this city, and the entire Fox River Valley are awaiting the bout eagerly. Tickets will be placed on sale in a few days.

HIGH CAGERS ARE TO PLAY MARINETTE AGAIN

Appleton highs are to wind up the basketball season with games against Marinette, home and at the northern city. The game at Marinette will be played March 12.

Marinette, Appleton's jinx in football, basketball, and everything pertaining to sports, wrecked the locals hopes by winning from Coach Vincent's five in the semi-finals of the Oshkosh tourney.

Appleton will try to come back strong and hand a licking to Marinette as a climax to a successful season.

BAKER, CHASE AND ZIMMERMAN ARE OUT OF NATIONAL GAME

OLDFINE STARS APPARENTLY ARE HEADED INTO OBLIVION—SEVERAL OTHERS ABSENT

(By Henry L. Farrell)
By United Press Leased Wire
New York—Three landmarks of the National game, figures around whom much of modern diamond history has been wound, have headed off the main road down the path that leads away from the spotlight.

Frank "Home Run" Baker, who clubbed his way to fame in a world's series, Hal Chase, peer of all first basemen and Heinie Zimmerman, the eccentric one, who represent among their 47 years of service on the diamond, are through with baseball.

Baker, known almost as well for his annual holdouts as for frenzied streaks of long distance hitting, is going to farm his holdings in Trappe, Md., and avoid sleepless Pullmans and eatless hotels that have been theirs in his baseball life.

Chase is heading west to enter the movies. His eyes have gone back on him, he says and he wanted to beat the old boy out of the scythe and quit before he slipped.

Zimmerman evidently is out. With McGraw's suspension hanging over him, the scrappy infielder seems to have lost all his friends. Several teams need an old head like Heinie on the inner defense but they don't seem to want Heinie.

Lee Magee also is out. The Cubs have "given him the gate" and a rumored blacklist signed by all managers at the Chicago meeting is said to be blocking his way into any other line up. Magee threatens to start court proceedings to clear his name.

Heinie Groh would like to be in Miami with the champion Reds but Mrs. Groh says "no" and the ex-captain of the Major crew is still selling ties and socks in Cincinnati.

Wally Schang, peeved because Babe Ruth and not he drew the ticket to the Yankee fold, is worrying Ed Barrow by his absence.

LAWRENCE ENDS SEASON WITH WIN OVER MILTON

Lawrence closed the basketball season with an 18 to 14 win over Milton college at Milton Saturday night. The Blue and White maintained a slight lead throughout.

Kubitz and Larson were the main factors in the victory of Coach Beyer's quintet. The two forwards played A-1 ball, and kept the opposition guessing. Waterpool and Lean at guard and Smith at center also played good ball. Normington and Basing had a chance at center and forward.

The victory wrote final to a successful season for the Lawrentians. The Blue and White captured second place in the conference race, and won a majority of games played.

TWIN CITY CARDINALS WIN FROM SHEBOYGAN

Twin City Cardinals defeated Sheboygan, 36 to 24, at Nee-nah armory Saturday night, securing revenge for the trimming handed them earlier in the season by the Chair city five.

The Cards played fast ball, and let through. A comparatively small crowd, including a number of local people, witnessed the contest. A dance followed the game.

DECIDE ON LENGTH OF VOLLEY BALL SCHEDULE

In connection with tonight's volley ball games, the St. Paul Recreation league will hold a special meeting at which they will decide how long the schedule is to continue. All four teams will play their three-game events.

KAUKAUNA KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS AS ACTORS

Kaukauna Knights of Columbus will present the peppy musical comedy, Katcha-Kon, at the Kaukauna auditorium April 8 and 9. One hundred and fifty persons, practically all local talent, will be included in the cast.

The show is to be staged under the direction of the John Rogers Company, Indiana. Rehearsals are to be started soon.

$3,800 IS NEEDED TO INSURE LEAGUE TEAM IN APPLETON

LARGE SUM OF MONEY IS REQUIRED TO LEASE AND PROPERLY EQUIP NEW BALL-GROUNDS.

The Fox River Valley baseball league is rapidly taking shape, and this week Appleton will complete its preliminaries and step into line. The all-important task with the local management is to provide $3,800 for leasing and equipping a baseball field. A suitable location on the car line has been found, and will probably be rented within the next few days. Then will come the work of fencing it and putting up a grandstand. It is estimated that the total cost will amount to about $3,800. Of this amount, it is planned to raise $2,000 by a canvass to be made this week, the balance to be furnished by the team itself.

If the manufacturers donate liberally toward the needed fund, Harry Sylvester, manager, announces that probably an industrial league will be organized here for this season. A schedule will be prepared and a pennant furnished by the baseball people, and the factory teams will be given the free use of the field any time the valley nine is not using it, either on week-days or Sundays. Last year eight firms had teams in the factory league, and it is expected that the manufacturers will make the same arrangement possible this year through helping to finance the needed field and equipment.

Of the other league cities, Menasha has already raised $6,000 with which it purchased a park outright. At Kimberly, the Kimberly Real Estate company donated a lot which was disposed of and part of the funds secured, and the Kimberly-Cleland company gave $5,000 toward the fund. Kaukauna has over $1,000 raised and New London is well over the $1,500 mark. Whether there will be a Fox River Valley league or not depends on Appleton's ability to raise its fund, because if the plans here do not materialize, the other nearby cities will drop out.

Manager Sylvester, Gustave Knoll and George Hogreider, president of the league, were all at Oshkosh last week to sign up players for Appleton. They succeeded in booking Bruce Noel, former Wisconsin-Indiana player, as pitcher; also Webb, second base; Lembrecht, outfielder, and Kimmers, catcher, all of the men who played on last year's team. As soon as the snow clears away, the home players will be given a fair chance to qualify for the team. A schedule of the season's games is to be announced later in the week.

WITH THE PLAYERS IN THE SOUTHLAND

By United Press Leased Wire
San Antonio, Tex.—More tilts with the San Antonio Bronchos have gone over for a week. The coldest March day here in 37 years caused the Giants game yesterday with the Texas leaguers to be called off. For the rest of the week all activity will be confined to games within the family.

Jacksonville, Fla.—Miller Huggins probably will start his Yankees in their first practice game tomorrow. Cold weather so far has set the New Yorkers back several days on their schedule.

New Orleans.—The Cleveland Indians hung up an 11 to 6 victory over the New Orleans Pelicans in their first game of the training season here yesterday.

Miami, Fla.—Moran's world's champions started practice here today under blue skies and a warm sun. A double session of practice each day is planned.

Tampa, Fla.—Reveille this morning brought Clark Griffiths Nationals blinking into some real Florida weather. The outlook was bright for resumption of the training season, broken by the cold snap. Walter Johnson is going to St. Petersburg on St. Patrick's day with the second team to play Indianapolis. American association. Walter will pitch a few innings.

Paradise, Calif.—The Chicago Cubs with their wives and camp followers, were the guests yesterday of owner William Wrigley, Jr., on a boat trip to Catalina Island, and were given a respite from the training grind.

A dinner was one feature of the day's entertainment.

Macon, Ga.—Jack Coombs, acting manager of the Tigers, just escaped jail yesterday. He had scheduled a practice session for the Benzal tribe without knowing Georgia laws made this a penal offense. Somebody tipped him off.

Los Angeles, Cal.—The Athletic Yankians handed the regulars a surprise here yesterday by holding them to a 2 to 2 tie in 11 innings. The regulars were outplayed in every department. Bob Martin 18 year old outfielder starred for the Yankians.

Birmingham, Ala.—Weather permitting, Garry Cawath will put the public through their first practice drill at Rockwood Field today.

ARCADE CONTESTS COMING STRONG: WIN ON SUNDAY

Arade Conners defeated the Fifth Ward Leaders by more than 500 wins in a match game at the Arcade alleys Sunday afternoon. The work of the victors did not belie their name, and the victory champs are now arranging matches with other leading teams in the city.

BIG LEAGUE BALL CLUBS HAVE GONE TO TRAINING CAMPS

STARS AND ROOKIES ARE GETTING READY FOR COMING SEASON IN THE SOUTH

(Special to Post-Crescent)
It might be called the annual spring thaw—this exodus of the 16 big league baseball clubs from their homes of the frosty north to the balmy clime of the Dixie sun.

Without the preliminaries the main bout would lose its punch. It affords the music out of which that familiar little ditty "Who's going to win the pennant?" is created. The southland might be compared to the magic well of sunshine, where those who come and battle leave there all aches and pains. Each spring the army of athletes treks to Dixie for the purpose of separating itself from sore arms, stiff joints and aching muscles.

It is there the veterans and the rookies work side by side in learning anew the hey on the ball and the best angle at which to crack it out of the lot. They hope to be thawed out sufficiently, when they return north April 14, to play a brand of ball which will make the fans content to pay the advanced prices on seats.

A training camp is the household of surprises. It is here that some of the old stars first show signs of slipping back into oblivion and the minors and some few of the rookies loom as future Ty Cobb, Babe Ruths and Christy Mathewsons.

Connie Mack was the first to answer the call. He opened the training camp guns at Lake Charles, La., on Feb. 22. Kid Gleason will be the last to encamp south of the Mason and Dixon line. He will not take the Pale Horse to Waco, Texas, until March 12.

Practically all of the other clubs will be encamped in Dixieland by March 1. The addresses of the other American League clubs will be: Cleveland Indians at New Orleans; Detroit Tigers at Macon, Fla.; Boston Red Sox at Hot Springs, Ark.; Washington Senators at Tampa, Fla.; St. Louis Browns at Taylor, Tex., and the New York Yankees at Jacksonville, Fla.

In the National League the Chicago Cubs will train at Pasadena, Cal.; St. Louis Cardinals at Brownsville, Tex.; Cincinnati Reds at Miami, Fla.; Pittsburgh Pirates at Hot Springs, Ark.; Kansas City at San Antonio, Texas; Philadelphia at Birmingham, Alabama; Boston Braves at Columbus, Ga.; and the Brooklyn Dodgers at Jacksonville, Fla.

Both Texas and Florida will have four major league clubs as guests.

Alex Sauter visited at Suring over Sunday.

GOOD WILL NEEDED TO SOLVE PROBLEMS, AUDIENCE IS TOLD

DR. CLELAND M. M'AFEE SAYS NATIONALISM FOR SERVICE MUST BE DEVELOPED

"We could easily solve any problem if we had enough good will among men," Dr. Cleland M. McAfee said at the address delivered Sunday evening at the "International Good Will" by Dr. Cleland M. McAfee at Lawrence Memorial chapel, the occasion being the monthly union service of the Appleton churches. Dr. McAfee is connected with McCormick Theological seminary, Chicago, and is one of the outstanding leaders in the Presbyterian church today.

"You often hear the expression, peace on earth among men of good will," the speaker stated. "There cannot be peace among any other. Our largest evils are caused by ill will."

He then spoke in detail of the lack of good will among employers and employees, stating that any showing of good will among the former is looked upon with suspicion. In welfare work, which he used as an example, no matter how good the intentions of the employer, the move was looked upon as a means of keeping the men quiet. An added cause of ill will, the speaker pointed out, was that the great mass of employees are not under the influence of good will as preached by the churches. The message has come mostly to employers, with the result that they have developed far more good will than the working classes.

Because of a bad philosophy of national life, Dr. McAfee held that Mexico and Japan could not be entirely blamed for being suspicious of America. Three kinds of nationalism have been tried—nationalism of aggressiveness, which Germany used but which failed; nationalism for distinction, which permits a nation to develop individuality, and which England's failure to use caused her to make mistakes; and nationalism of defense.

"There is one nationalism we haven't tried," continued the speaker. "It is nationalism for service—to make the strongest, healthiest nation we can for the world. Great Britain has sincerely tried it. We are actually out of the League of Nations for lack of good will, because either we do not believe in the good will of the people or because we have not good will enough for our people; because we do not believe there is good will enough in the world to keep it going, and we have not enough good will of our own in it to seem to make it safe. We are priding ourselves that other nations need and want us so much that they will let us in on terms other people cannot ask for themselves. We say we need protection because we will not risk ourselves to the world because we do not trust them. The future of the world is for good will. It may not come now, but it behooves men and women like ourselves to see whether we have kept step with the movements that go out into the future."

Intelligence and mutual burden bearing were emphasized by the speaker as the two ways of developing good will. The minds of nations have been poisoned with half truths and seeds of suspicion sown everywhere. Adverse elements of nations are usually magnified by one body of people while another is making its way into the hearts of the common people for a better world.

SHOW CAUTION IN EUROPEAN TRADING

AMERICAN BUSINESS FIRMS AND INVESTORS DEMAND CERTAIN SECURITY OF EUROPEANS

(Special to Post-Crescent)

Washington, D. C.—American manufacturers and producers of raw materials are finding out what European buyers have to offer as security before they send their materials abroad. Inquiries are pouring into the Department of Commerce and Labor here asking for details of arrangements whereby American investors can assure themselves of payments for their goods in the form of mortgages on the plants of the European manufacturer or dividends on stock.

Government officials here are of the opinion the United States investor might in that way assist the United States producer and shipper sell his raw material and to get quick payment for it. Europe must have our raw material, they point out. It cannot get it unless it pays for it and it cannot pay for it unless credits are extended. It is the plan to back these credits up by accepting securities of the plants themselves.

Generally speaking, big financial men are disinclined to risk heavily in Europe. Government officials, however, say investment of American dollars in Europe is natural and logical, if negotiable through private enterprises with safe and sane backing.

The government departments to which inquiries are being directed are inclined to caution Americans to invest in European industrial securities only after investigation both at home and abroad as to the enterprises to be invested in and the good faith of the American agents, whether they be trading companies or otherwise.

Would-be investors in European securities cite as proof of their hopes, the enormous profits now being made by English cotton mills, which are reported to be earning dividends ranging up to 300 per cent on capital stock. Boom time dividends also are being paid by European concerns holding large oil and rubber properties.

Queries for information as to the standing and dividends paid by industrial companies in France, England and Italy are flooding many government departments here.

Many American business men say the present situation is like that prevailing when the U. S. was building up its trans-continental railroads, opening its great mines and laying the foundations of great factories.

The great American fortunes of the coming generations are going to be made through foreign connections, many experts contend.

At the outbreak of the Great War, approximately $1,000,000,000 worth of American securities were held by foreign investors. All but one quarter of these securities were sold here, according to the best estimates.

Within the next 10 years, approximately $3,000,000,000 will be invested abroad by Americans, it is predicted. Americans have it within their power to save and invest nearly this entire sum in one year, it was said here today. According to Comptroller of the Currency John S. Williams, Americans this year will have a surplus of approximately $10,000,000,000 above what they will need for food, clothes and education. Much of this must be invested in rebuilding American industry torn down by the war, it is conceded. But there still will be left a vast sum that may be invested abroad.

Europeans will have little left with which to rehabilitate their industries after paying burdensome taxes, according to the best observers. England will have a surplus of approximately $5,000,000,000 above necessities, or approximately one-half of the expected U. S. surplus, officials estimate. France can muster approximately $2,500,000,000, it is believed, and Italy perhaps a like sum. But from these surpluses, the British, Italians and French must deduct their taxes. The result, it is believed, will be a high

ANOTHER CO. A MAN GETS SERVICE CROSS

WALTER MELCHOIR IS AWARDED CROIX DE GUERRE BY THE FRENCH GOVERNMENT

Another member of Co. A, 150th machine gun battalion, Rainbow division, has been awarded the Croix de Guerre by the French government. He is Walter Melchoir, son of Postmaster and Mrs. J. F. Melchoir of Wausau, Wis.

The young man enlisted with the Appleton outfit shortly before the men started for camp and served to the finish. He was one of the three Marinette county young men to be decorated for valor.

The order citing Melchoir for bravery and awarding the decoration was signed by General Petain, commander of the French armies in the east, and reads as follows:

"Croix de Guerre with gilt star awarded by the French government to Walter Melchoir. While on duty as liaison agent July 15, 1918, at the time of the German offensive in Champagne and high sense of duty by carrying messages in spite of a heavy artillery barrage. On his own initiative he took part in the fighting in order to help his comrades to drive back the enemy."

POSTAL CLERKS PROVE THEY HAVE APPETITES

What a bunch of hard working postal employees can do to a sumptuous feed prepared mostly by culinary experts of their own sex was demonstrated at the postoffice building Saturday evening. The occasion was a banquet session of the Appleton Postoffice Clerks' association. They gathered at seven o'clock for dinner and carried out an elaborately prepared program of social enjoyment.

A short schooling on the compensation act for postal employees was conducted by H. J. French, assistant postmaster, for the benefit of those to whom the provisions were not clear. Cigars were passed and the tables cleared for a card tournament, which made short work of the evening hours. The association plans to give a minstrel show in the near future, a committee being appointed for that purpose.

INCREASE ALLOTMENT FOR PALESTINE WORK

Appleton Zionists have been notified by the headquarters at Green Bay that this city's quota for the restoration of Palestine has been increased from $3,000 to $4,000. The meeting of the executive committee at which plans were to be made for raising the amount was not held today as planned, but will be held within two or three days. At that time efforts will be made to provide for the raising of the additional money.

BOHIMUR KRYL WANTS LOCAL MAN IN HIS BAND

A. L. Gmeiner, well-known Appleton cornetist, has received an offer to join Kryl's band, which is soon to go on a nineteen weeks tour of the country. Mr. Gmeiner stated this morning that he would not accept the offer.

The band, which is one of the most famous in the country, is led by Bohimur Kryl, cornetist. Kryl was cornet soloist at a concert given here by the Ninth Regimental band of which Mr. Gmeiner is a member.

This is the second attractive offer which the local man has recently received to go on tour with a musical organization.

STEINHAEUER CHANGES MIND AGAIN; WILL RUN

Off again, on again, gone again. That represents the attitude of Mike Steinhauer, alderman from the second ward, with reference to his candidacy in the April election. Mr. Steinhauer today announced he would be a candidate. Saturday he said he would not enter the race.

Nomination papers for Mr. Steinhauer have been filed with E. L. Williams, city clerk. John McCann has announced himself as a candidate to succeed Mr. Steinhauer.

STARR WILL ANSWER QUERIES ABOUT MEXICO

Frederick Starr, who speaks at the Memorial Chapel tonight, is one of the comparatively small number of Americans, whose achievements have been recognized by many decorations of foreign governments and societies. He is a recognized authority upon Africa, China, Korea, and the Philippines. Probably no other American is so well and intimately known by so many Japanese as Prof. Starr. He knows the problems of the Far East, having spent a good part of 1919 at his home in Japan, but it is of Mexico and her problems that he prefers to speak at the present time.

At the conclusion of the lecture, Prof. Starr will answer any questions that may be asked. He will also be glad to meet upon the stage anyone who wishes to make his acquaintance and to ask informally of the land of great resources and of the remarkable people, he knows so well.

Y.M.C.A. CIRCUS WILL BE HELD APRIL 9 AND 10

The annual Y. M. C. A. circus will be held April 12 and 13, it was definitely announced this morning. In addition to the circus program, a present demonstration of the work of the physical department will be presented April 9 and 10. Circus tickets will be good for both pagan and circus programs.

The program this year will be the best and biggest yet attempted. Physical Director Starkey said. Practice has been in progress some time, and everything is moving along nicely.

NOT MUCH WARMER IN FLORIDA THAN APPLETON

L. C. Schmidt, who with his wife and daughter Helen, has been spending several weeks at Palm Beach, Florida, has written home that the temperature recently dropped to forty degrees above zero, something unheard of before in that part of the country and that he with other tourists suffered from the cold as the hotels and residences were not provided with adequate heating facilities. Mr. Schmidt says there are more tourists at Palm Beach this winter than ever before and that the hotel rates have nearly doubled. At the time the let-

The county superintendent of schools is advocating a "Library Corner" in each school building, the county. A library corner, says, consists of a small part of the school set aside for reading and reference purposes, where pupils will have completed their work in a satisfactory manner may go to reference work. There should be, table, two or three chairs, a few pictures, and of course book cases fixed up in the most attractive style.

A PROGRESSIVE MOVE.

The movement to relieve the house shortage in Appleton has received an auspicious beginning as a result of the initiative of the Real Estate Board. The discussion of the problem at the meeting at the Y. M. C. A. not only brought out the seriousness of the situation but evolved definite and it seems to us, practical plans for meeting it. It is proposed to have a thorough and systematic survey of the city made to ascertain the actual housing requirements. With this as a basis to work on it is next proposed to organize a house building corporation. A definite method was outlined for the creation of this corporation on the theory that it would be necessary to finance the construction of houses to the extent of $500,000. This would build one hundred houses at an average estimated cost of $5,000, yet it would require only an actual cash outlay of $150,000 to swing the undertaking.

We believe the details of this proposal, published in the Post-Crescent, will strike those interested, as well as those who may become interested, as offering a business-like way to obtain the construction of houses on an extensive scale. The whole proposition must, of course, be worked out on a basis that will show the exact returns an investment of this kind would yield, for it is recognized that capital can be enlisted only on the assurance of an attractive and fixed dividend. A committee will draft a concrete prospectus to present to local capitalists.

The plan has three distinct advantages. The first is that it is to be essentially a business enterprise. The second is that it contemplates concentrated and standardized building, which will insure large economies. The third is that it makes it possible for those in need of houses to purchase and own their own homes on comparatively easy and inviting terms. We believe the proposal will have the support and cooperation of business men in a position to finance it. Profits must not be estimated on elements of uncertainty, but must be definitely guaranteed. So far as the purchasers or renters of property this plan would make available are concerned, they will benefit by it materially, for it will give them homes at less cost than it would be possible to build individually.

The Real Estate Board is to be congratulated for the energetic manner in which it has taken hold of this problem, as well as for the resourcefulness it is displaying toward solving it. The results mean a great deal to Appleton, a fact which we believe businessmen and citizens generally thoroughly recognize. Nothing could be done at this time which would so promote the progress and larger prosperity of Appleton than to proceed with the house construction program that is under consideration. It is the first physical need of the city.

PUBLIC SERVICE THAT IS SERVICE.

Not the least of Appleton's assets is the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power company. In making this favorable comment we refer in this instance particularly to the interurban line which it operates between Kaukauna and Neenah. We do not believe there will be found anywhere in the state of Wisconsin an electric railway operated with greater efficiency and with greater fidelity to the service of the public than this property. When other interurban lines throw up their hands in the face of storm and cold this company works ceaselessly to keep its road open, and actually does keep it open.

The storm last week paralyzed the line from Neenah to Oshkosh, while the Wisconsin Public Service company's road from Kaukauna to Green Bay was temporarily out of commission. Not so with the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat & Power company. With the hardest kind of persistence it maintained its service from Kaukauna to Appleton and from Appleton to Neenah. In the very midst of the storm when operating conditions were at their worst one of the conductors is said to have apologized to a passenger for taking him into Kaukauna five minutes late.

Similar stories and similar comparisons could be told regarding other storms of the winter. The record of the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat & Power company is one to be proud of. The cities and communities served by it are fortunate. It gives service in the best sense of the word—service that is dependable, adequate and accommodating.

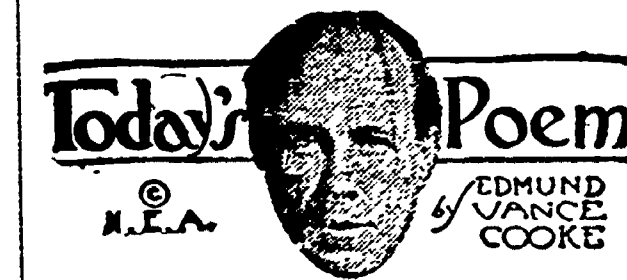

SHOULD VOTE THEIR CONVICTIONS.

The peace treaty again hangs in the balance. It seems to be pretty clearly understood in Washington that the senate will ratify the league of nations covenant with what amounts substantially to the Lodge reservations. A sufficient number of Democrats in the senate to insure the necessary majority appears to be available for the treaty provided only the president will give his assent to ratification on this basis. Senator Hitchcock is endeavoring to get into communication with Mr. Wilson to ascertain exactly how far he will go in accepting reservations, and particularly the reservation to Article X.

While we have no doubt public opinion is ready to indorse ratification with or without reservations, and while we believe the true interests of peace and the moral position of this country advise acceptance of the covenant on practically its original provisions, nevertheless we think it is better to have a league of nations with the United States in on conditions modified to meet the objections of the Lodge element than to organize the league without the United States.

No one knows what the attitude of President Wilson will be in the last analysis. No one knows what answer he may give to Senator Hitchcock. The chances are he will oppose the Lodge program, especially as it affects Article X, and that he will endeavor to state his attitude in a manner that will convince the American people of its soundness. He may do this in the hope of forcing the treaty through the senate on the original draft, or he may do it to lay the foundations for taking the issue into the presidential campaign. On the other hand, he may do nothing of the kind. He may make no definite response.

Whatever the president does or does not do, the senate should, it seems to us, proceed to dispose of the treaty. If the Democrats are disposed to accept the Lodge reservations with the president's approval, they should be prepared to accept them without his approval. In other words, they ought to be able to think for themselves on the question. If they conceive the course of Senator Lodge and the majority Republicans to be illogical and unacceptable, then they should vote against it. We must always bear in mind that the senate has no power of its own to re-draft this treaty. Such action constitutes negotiation of a new treaty, and it will be up to the president in such an event to decide whether he wishes to refer an amended treaty to the other signatories for acceptance. The best the senate can do is to indicate the form in which it believes the treaty and the league of nations ought to be entered by the United States. This duty it should unhesitatingly discharge. It would shift the responsibility to the president, or at least divide it with him. Failure to take any action places the full responsibility upon the senate.

"THE POST-OFFICE BOX"
Half seen from their kitchen, half hid from our pump
In a circle of scrub was a veteran stump.
It was old, it was hollow, a perfect design
For a lover of ten and a sweetheart of nine.
For although we met daily at school and at play,
Our embarrassing tongues had but little to say.
But we unpacked our hearts of their tenderest stocks
As we emptied them into our post-office box.

"The rose is red, the rose is yellow,
And you're my girl cause I'm your fellow."
And whenever my hand left a violet note
Which told what my tongue had no courage to
I would signal at once (to avoid any scandal)
By hanging my hat on the pump's pointing handle.
And when he had answered, she made the fact clear
By a back-window flash of an eloquent mirror.
For love leaps all barriers, laughs at all locks
And heart flows to heart through a post-office box.

"If you love me as I love you,
No knife shall cut our love in two."
O, still I can thrill with that perfumed delight
When her little pink paper broke open my sight!
But more I remember the jolt of despair
When my rummaging hand found no missive
Was there,
Whether traitor discovered, or treason befell

By Mad Inventions I Count Chances for Daddy's Return

"Jane, dear!" Chrys called softly. She rose as she spoke and Jordan Spence rose also, and they came toward me, hand in hand, like little children. Evidently they expected me to accept their love affair as a matter of course! That was quite easy because I had accepted it long before they themselves had dared to admit its existence to themselves! I made no comment on the familiar clasping of their hands. Chrys continued:

"I'm selfish, Jane! Just think! You might have gone down—"

I stopped her with a caress. Then I turned to Dr. Spence with:

"Gene Archer! He was on board, you know! Where do his relatives live?"

The question roused Spence from his dedication to the service of Chrys and set him to consider the wider demands which the tragedy made upon him. Dr. Travers, coming slowly with evil tidings, was vastly relieved to find that we already knew the worst. Together the men assumed all obvious duties and invented many more.

They wired Mother Lorimer and Jim, Jr., assuring both that they did not believe the report that the "one" had gone down. She was a supreme example of non-sinkable craft. They insisted that she must be afloat and that she would be discovered as soon as the high sea subsided. They forwarded the news that I had not been aboard the "one" when she sailed although the wire service reported Mrs. Robert Lorimer and Dr. Henry Travers as belonging to the party on the missing yacht.

Jim, Jr., wired back that he had obtained permission to go to a Gulf city from which point he himself would take up the search for the yacht in a plane.

"And I wouldn't wonder if the kid picked up some clew!" He was always a lucky devil," I heard Spence remark to Travers. "A score of flying men are on the job, but I'll bet on Jim!"

Said I to myself, "There are lots of new things under the sun. Never before has a boy set out in a plane to rescue his father from a derelict. In the name of high adventure, it ought to follow that Jim should sweep down and snatch his father from a life raft." By such mad invention I counted the chances which would bring Daddy back to us.

Underneath my anxiety about Daddy was the deeper concern about my husband. Finally I realized that everything was caught up with the shipwreck and I had to remind me that Bob's fate might be worse than his father's. I said to Chrys:

"I'm going to ask Dr. Travers to go out to the hacienda with me at once. I see that you are depending on Jordan Spence."

"I am," she said simply. "Thank you for letting him remain here."

"When Dr. Travers and I were started, at last, for the hacienda, I thought of what Daddy Lorimer had decided about us when he found that we had left the yacht together. I felt hysterical and awful sorry for myself. I seemed dreadful that he who had loved me so should harbor such a dreadful notion about me."

Travers drew the cover. We seldom spoke as we tore along, but I know that he was brooding over the disaster from which he had escaped, while my mind was divided between the catastrophe we were leaving behind us and that which we were about to face.

I couldn't plan what to do at the hacienda and Travers knew nothing whatever of the situation there. We would have to adapt ourselves to circumstances as we found them.

One thing was sure: If life ever did turn out right again, if ever I reached the safe comfort of the Lorimer house again, I was done with adventure forever and forever.

I had discovered that what looks like adventure in fiction is unadulterated hardship in experience.

THE PEOPLE'S FORUM

FISH PROTECTION
To the Editor of Post-Crescent:—On Feb. 16 there appeared in the columns of the Post-Crescent an article stating that the State Conservation Commission at Madison is in receipt of petitions requesting the stopping of all net fishing in the Fox River, the apparent reason for this request being the protection of the game fish.

The writer wishes to state that he is one of the fishers in the Fox River, but thus far the game fish have need no protection whatsoever, so far as he is concerned, as in six weeks' netting he has caught about 500 pounds of catfish, or lawyers and each of these had from two to five perch or other game fish in them when caught.

Protection of the fish from pulp stock bark and digester liquor is the crying need—not prohibiting the netting of them. I was advised to fish on the upper river (above the mills) the fishing there being better. If this is true, netting out the rough fish must be the thing to do, for they have netted on the upper river for years, and I am the only one who has ever netted on the lower Fox.

An ordinary citizen is not permitted to throw anything into the river, yet the mill dump refuse and debris into it by the carload year after year until the bottom of the river is covered thick. In a 30 foot lead to one of my nets I took out over two bushels of pulp stock and I can take a shovel and scoop it up from the bottom anywhere.

In a conversation with one of the members of the Fish Protection Association this matter was brought up and all he said was that "this was hard to control." Doesn't it seem as though the Fish Protective Association is putting something over on the poor fish? It looks to me as though the mill owners were getting the lion's share of protection.

Before you sign the petition above referred to, come down to Telulah Springs where I have my nets and investigate the conditions thoroughly. It is absurd to expect to protect the game fish by stopping the netting of rough fish. Let the association purge the river of the filth from the mills, or at least prevent them dumping waste and refuse into it in the future and the fish will take care of themselves. FRANK ROEHL, Appleton, Wis., March 6, 1920.

I was too proud to ask, she was too shy to tell. Ah, how empty is life when an emptiness meeks A hungering heart at the post-office box!

"Marble is cold and granite's hard;
A false heart reaps its own reward."

I saw her today, with her triplicate chin;
And her waist sloping out where it ought to slope in.

And I'm sure that she thought, as she eyed me askance:

"Could ever that creature inspire a romance?"
O, the old stump is vanished and gone to decay.
But the hollowness of it is hollow today,
And its might-have-been sinks my heart into my rocks.

As I look at my love of our post-office box.

"Romance is dead, since heaven has willed
To show my early love full-filled."

Autobiography of a Baby—X

Some kids I've lapped in my ravel make me tired. They are dressed more like prize pups at a dog show. I wonder if their mothers really think all that tiggers adds one lot to a baby's looks. Me for plain clothes. I am not a vain child.

My diapers were made of stockinette or cotton flannel, materials which are better absorbers than linen or muslin. No waterproof material was ever used in my clothing. My petticoats and other thingumbobs were loose about the waist and supported from the shoulders. This, dad insisted on, for he said he wanted to keep my colon, kidneys and such things right where they belonged, even if the dress designer felt that nature had misplaced everything.

In cold weather my petticoats were long enough to protect my feet and my nighties had a drawstring at the bottom so they could be snugly closed yet leave me room to stretch and kick when I felt like it. It's a good scheme, I'll tell the world. A baby likes to stir occasionally, you know, and it makes him sore if he finds he is unable to do so; he whoops it up, and no telling but some one will consider that a signal for some worm medicine or something of the kind.

In very hot weather my day dress consisted essentially of a diaper, a light cotton undershirt and my belly button. At night I wore a light cotton nightgown. Excessive summer heat kills young babies when it would merely make grownups a little uncomfortable. You see we manufacture a good deal more heat in our metabolism than grownups do in proportion to size, and our heat dissipating apparatus is not nearly so efficient as it is in big folks. That makes it pretty tough for us on hot days and hot nights. And still some mothers pile on superfluous clothing regardless of the weather.

In our family the rule was that I must never be dressed warmly enough to make me perspire. If at any time mother was in doubt she felt of my feet and hands; if they were not cold, and if I seemed to be enjoying myself, I had on all the clothing I needed. Why can't all kids' mothers have sense like that, I'd like to know?

Shoes?—Now there's another foolish habit, putting shoes on babies not yet old enough to walk. Why, one day my mother decked me out for a long journey on the cars. It was summer, and she completed my costume with a pair of socks. It was my first appearance in socks. When father discovered the socks he went right up in the air. "What's the idea, afraid his royal highness will 'take cold'?" he quipped. My mother blushed. She said nothing more, but while father was buying the tickets mother slipped off the socks and never put them on again until I began to walk.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Chronic Appendicitis
After looking over the letter of Dr. herewith enclosed and considering my history as noted on the separate page, would you agree with Dr.—that I had better submit to operation for chronic appendicitis? (B. W. M.)

ANSWER—I know of no better consultant than the physician whose letter you enclose. He speaks of "tentative" treatment. A diagnosis of chronic appendicitis in a case without a clear history of acute attacks of appendicitis, is necessarily "tentative." In my mind there is no question of the wisdom of having an operation early if necessary, other, for acute appendicitis, show that my own appendix—"one of the worst cases we've ever had," according to the nurses, in their w. k. role—is out. But I amno whether I'd have a tentative operation for chronic appendicitis; it would depend on how much the thing was hurting.

GETS 30 YEAR SENTENCE FOR KENOSHA ROBBERY
Kenosha, Wis.—The curtain was rung down on the famous American Brass company robbery and last March in the Municipal Court here on Thursday when August Blank, third of the trio of bandits to be sent "over the road," pleaded guilty to dynamiting the safe and was sentenced by Judge Tully to serve thirty years at Wau-pun.

Blank had no attorney and asked for none.

Earl Loveday and Carl O. Carlson, his pals, are both serving life sentences at the state penitentiary. All three were Chicago gunmen.

A Philosophy Bankrupt
"My emphatic conclusion is that socialism as a philosophy of possible human application is bankrupt," says Herbert Hoover in the November issue of The Nation's Business.

"The whole of the various sorts of socialism are based on one primary conception, and that is that the productivity of the human being can be maintained under the impulse of altruism, and that the selection of the particular human for his most productive performance can be made by some superimposed bureaucracy. Their weakness is the disregard of the normal day-to-day primary impulse of the human animal—that is, self interest for himself or for his family and home, with a certain addition of altruism varying with his racial instinct and his degree of intelligence. They fail to take into account, also, that there is but one sufficiently selective agent for human abilities in that infinite specialization of mind and body necessary to maintain the output of the intricate machinery of production, and that is the primary school of conception."

Something Said
A music teacher, giving a lesson to a careless pupil, was becoming impatient with her. Finally, at a most complicated part of a difficult piece, the pupil lifted her hands from the piano and searched for her handkerchief. It was the last straw. "Oh," exclaimed the teacher, "was there ever such a girl? You lose your position, you lose your fingering, you lose your handkerchief, you lose everything! 'Oh, me,' repeated the pupil, with a twinkle in her eyes, "and everything! I haven't lost my temper!"

MUST SPEND TIME WITH GOD TO LEARN LESSONS OF LIFE

DR. WOOD ADVISES HIS CONGREGATION TO SPEND LESS TIME IN WORLDLY PURSUITS

"The Need for Lent in Modern Society" was the theme of Dr. L. B. Wood's sermon Sunday morning at the First Methodist church. He based his message on the scriptural incident where Jesus was led into the wilderness and tempted by the devil. "There is no such thing as the world in things about us," the pastor stated, "that we need to spend yet many 40 days in our life-time considering our own spiritual needs."

It was pointed out that the definitions for success and failure today are based too much on the desire to get things, or the inability to get them. The world is too full of sordid materialism and commercialism. There comes a time when material things cannot satisfy, the speaker declared. If a man has lofty ideas, they cannot be fed on bread (material things of this world) alone. People must take time with God to learn this lesson.

"You will be better able to meet the temptations out in the stress of the world," Dr. Wood continued, "if you have battled with them at some time alone. Jesus had power, and the powers of darkness knew it. How to use that power was the question. He was not in the world to use the power for his own glorification, but for the uplift and welfare of humanity. That's what we are here for. Those who use their power for unworthy ends will lose it, and those who use it for worthy ends will increase it."

"Are you going to stoop to conquer some present material thing?" the preacher asked, "some honor, some bauble, or are you going out and turn your back on the devil's works and stand squarely for the right no matter what it costs? Answer it in the words Christ used: 'Get thee behind me, Satan.' We need many quiet hours with God to learn these lessons."

POLICE FIND BODY OF MAN MISSING A WEEK

FRANK X. KESSLER DIES SUDDENLY WHILE PREPARING TO RETIRE ABOUT A WEEK AGO

The body of Frank X. Kessler, 70 years old, who had been missing for about a week, was found dead in bed by police officers in his room at 721 College avenue, above the Christian Science assembly hall, this morning. The man apparently had succumbed to heart failure as he was preparing to retire. One shoe was off and the body was partially disrobed. The body was frozen stiff.

Neighbors of the aged man had become alarmed because they had not seen him for a week and notified the police who opened the door to the room and found the body.

So far as is known, the man's only survivor is a sister, Mrs. John Majeres, living at Kaukauna. She will come here this afternoon to assume charge of the funeral arrangements.

The body is now in a local undertaking establishment.

CHURCH MEMBERS TO BE VISITED SUNDAY

THOSE WHO OUGHT TO GO TO CHURCH ALSO WILL BE CALLED ON—PART OF "FORWARD WEEK"

Interest in church going and church work will be given a new impetus next week. The protestant churches of the city have banded together to make a city-wide parish visitation next Sunday afternoon, and also to carry out what is termed "forward step" week.

At the Sunday morning service in the various churches yesterday, cards were passed securing the pledge of a corps of members who would devote next Sunday afternoon to calling on members of the churches, or others who ought to be members. They will also encourage the novel plan of having every church member take a forward step of some kind. Pledge cards have been prepared listing 25 or more suggestions for possible steps, either toward more regular church attendance, increased giving, work in the church organization or other added consecration of self to some standard of renewed service. The movement is also aimed at encouraging non-members to unite with some church and deciding to live Christian lives.

The costliness of rugs today makes advisable their careful preservation. Frequent and thorough cleaning prolongs their years of usefulness and beauty. Such cleaning consists of three essentials: Beating—to dislodge destructive embedded grit; Sweeping—to straighten crushed nap and detach stubborn clinging litter; Suction-cleaning—to remove surface dirt. Only The Hoover combines all three. And it is the largest selling electric cleaner in the world.

NATIONAL GUARD TO BE MUSTERED INTO SERVICE WEDNESDAY

GUARDSMEN ORDERED TO REPORT AT ARMY THIS EVENING FOR FINAL INSTRUCTIONS

Appleton's new national guard company will be formally mustered into federal service next Wednesday evening when Captain Ball, U. S. A., will be here to inspect the outfit and administer the federal oath. The company now consists of 94 men and three officers, sufficient to secure federal recognition. The regulations require an enlisted strength of 100 men but a new ruling permits of a ten per cent leeway either way.

Captain Fred Hoffman this morning instructed all his men to report at the armory at seven o'clock this evening for instructions preliminary to the inspection Wednesday evening. The men are to be brushed up in their training so that they will present a creditable appearance when the federal officer arrives.

Much of the recruiting here has been under the direction of Lieut. Raymond Manville who was appointed recruiting officer. He has devoted all his time for several weeks to the work and succeeded in stimulating considerable interest in the organization. A large number of war veterans are included in the company membership.

The rest of the time was taken up with reports of officers and committees and the business of reorganization. The following officers were chosen to lead the work of the department: Chairman, Mrs. George R. Wettengel; vice chairman, Mrs. Paul Hackbert; secretary, Mrs. W. T. Meyer. The regular time of meeting will be at four o'clock the third Tuesday of each month. The next meeting will be held March 16, in the east room of the Y. M. C. A.

The Public Health Department of the Woman's Club will carry on the activities of the former Child Welfare Circle as planned by that organization and take up new ones as the need arises. The officers will be glad to enroll new members at the general meeting to be held at Lawrence Conservatory tomorrow evening.

KAFFIR BEER HAS MORE KICK THAN MISSOURI MULE

Moonshining is Popular Pastime in South Africa—Product Makes a Fellow Turn Handsprings

By Edward M. Thierry
(Special to Post-Crescent)
Johannesburg, Transvaal — Moonshining isn't an American monopoly. South Africa has a big illicit liquor traffic. It's chiefly among the natives who are barred, except in Cape Province, from buying drinks.
Kaffir beer is their favorite "moonshine." Johannesburg suburban police recently raided a cold mine compound where 3200 natives live, latter even more deadly than the former.

The bulk of the liquor was found in paraffin cans under the bunks, while the floors were littered with jugs containing the stuff. When the liquor had all been poured down a drain the empty cans made a pile 11 feet high.

Kaffir has a peculiar kick in it calculated to make a white man turn handsprings. Browning of it existed throughout Africa centuries before white men colonized the continent.

It isn't exactly beer nor whiskey. It's rather like the "beer mash" fermented by the moonshiners of the Appalachian Mountains before distillation into whiskey.

Here's the way it is made, according to Dudley Kidd, prominent authority on South African natives:

"Women place some Kaffir corn in water till it swells. Then they dry and grind it up, mixing it in huge calabashes with water. In some districts natives add fermented extracts from roots of certain plants, to help the brewing."

"The result of the operation is a thin, dirty, nauseous, watery stuff. Natives can absorb the most prodigious quantities of this stuff. But after drinking for a day and a half without any needless intervals, they are apt to become very quarrelsome."

"They sometimes drink till they can hold no more, and then lie out in the sun to get rid of the liquor by perspiration, when they set to work once more. This process may be kept up for days together."

Kaffir beer usually is in a less fermented condition than the more deadly skokian. The latter has treacle and hops or yeast in it to make it ferment more rapidly.

Cases of crime, mostly theft and knife assaults, have been increasing among natives. The liquor traffic is blamed, but in spite of the strictest police supervision great quantities of moonshine material are regularly smuggled into mine compounds.

WALL STREET LAYS TRAPS TO GUARD ITS MILLIONS

(Special to Post-Crescent)

New York—Wall Street is busy locking the barn now that the metaphoric horse and $5,000,000 worth of bonds are missing.

But though the brokers plan to take the Bertillon measurements of messengers, hire policemen as overseers and use the stock exchange leased wire to carry the descriptions of absconders far and wide, to move to replace messengers of tender age has been made.

Wall Street busies itself with laying traps and wires to safeguard its millions, but it has no intention, apparently, of hiring men to take the place of youths to carry its bonds and securities.

The police are striving to reestablish the Fulton Street "dead-line," badly punctured of late. For some time it has been the unwritten law that crooks found below Fulton Street will be "railroaded" to jail on any available charge.

LOTTERY GIVES SOLUTION OF YANK FARM LAND RUSH

Land Hunger Brings 15,000 Applications for 144 Farms in Irrigation Region Opened to Ex-Service Men.

(By Carolyn Vance Bell.)
(Special to Post-Crescent.)
Washington. — Land hunger has manifested itself in returned soldiers.

Over 15,000 applications have been made to the U. S. Reclamation Service for 144 farms in the North Platte and Shoshone irrigation projects—the only lands so far opened for entry to ex-service men.

This is an encouraging indication that should offset the figures showing that a large percentage of farmers'

sons who were in the army have refused to go back to the farms.

"The reason these farmer lads refuse to go back on the farm," says C. J. Blanchard, chief statistician of the Reclamation Service, "is because they do not want to be mere farm laborers or tenant farmers. Give these men a chance to own a farm and the majority of them will jump at it."

With the large number of applications and the relatively small number of farms to distribute, it will be necessary to conduct a lottery for the North Platte and Shoshone farms.

The campaign against food profiteers and hoarders in the United States has netted a total of $95 arrears.

There are agit in Nicaragua that cultivate minute mushrooms for food in their underground homes by forming a compost from leaves of trees.

STILL SOME BOOZELEFT ON THE HEMISPHERE, BOYS

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Washington, D. C.—Here's a little manual entitled, "First Aid to the Thirsty." It is compiled from the facts supplied by Prohibition Commissioner Kramer, the Prohibition Repeal Association officials and the Anti-Saloon League of America.
CUBA—"The largest liquor reservoir near the 'Great American Desert.' Saloons are open day and night, seven days and seven nights a week. Drinks cost about twice as much as they did in the United States before the war and hotel rooms cost $16 a day."
BERMUDA—"Not so lively as Cuba, but only three days from New York. No laws against intoxication."
QUEBEC—"The only damp spot" in Canada. St. Patrick's Day, birthdays and Fourth of July can be celebrated here with any desired liquor.
LOWER CALIFORNIA—"Many Mexican states are dry, but Lower California is ruled by a man who doesn't believe in prohibition. It isn't expensive and they have all kinds of drinks here."
CENTRAL AMERICA—"Plenty."
SOUTH AMERICA—"No Sunday closing except in Bolivia and in Chili, where liquor cannot be sold between midnight and 6 a. m. Chilean state chemists watch breweries and distilleries to guarantee the purity of the output. Peruvian bars are closed both Saturdays and Sundays.
That's all on the hemisphere, lads.

SHANGHAI WANT ADS TELL TALES OF H. C. O. L. WOE

Housing Shortage and High Rents That Make Troubled America Sit Up and Take Notice Appear in Newspaper of Flowery Kingdom.
(By Charles Edward Hogue.)
(Special to Post-Crescent.)
Shanghai.—See Paris—and die. Thus ran the copy book maxim drilled into us when Spencerian was in vogue.
But the modern version is: See Shanghai, Paris of the Orient, and starve to death.
Harken unto these few little want ads, from a Shanghai newspaper. A real newspaper, by the way, incorporated in Delaware and with an American staff.
"Young American woman, secretary and expert stenographer, desires position with an American firm. Salary, Mexican, $350 a month."
Be it noted that an American gold dollar is worth about 77 cents in Mexican money.
Says a second:
"$100 REWARD—Advertiser will pay $100 bonus for suitable small house, furnished or unfurnished. Will lease for long period."
Then comes the rent problem, which in the United States is amateurish beside the China situation. Witness:
"TO LET, FURNISHED—For nine months, a six-room house. Modern conveniences. Suitable for married couple or two bachelors. Tails 25c the month."
A tale is worth about $1.65 in American money. The modest advertiser is asking only about $12.50 a month or $4,950 a year for his cottage.
The H. C. of L. has hit the erstwhile Flowery Kingdom.

GRIFFITH ASSERTS FANS MUST PAY MORE TO SEE BALL GAMES

"OLD FOX" SAYS EXPENSES OF THE GAME HAVE DOUBLED IN THE PAST FEW YEARS

By Fred Turbyville
(Special to Post-Crescent)
Washington, D. C.—Clark Griffith, Washington baseball magnate and owner, believes in enlightening the public—the baseball public—on the financial difficulties attending the conduct of a big league franchise.
"All expenses of the game have doubled in the past few years and yet the magnates have kept the admissions down until this year," says Griffith. "There is nothing to do but increase the receipts or get out of the business. It is doubtful if the majority of us could make a living at the old schedule of admissions and it is a certainty that few of us would receive any returns on our investment."
"Last year the Washington club made $20,000 and out of that we had to pay a tax of $3,000. That is on an investment of $300,000. But that was baseball's banner year. Previously we had lost money season after season—last year as much as $42,000."
"The increase in the price of admissions probably will make the receipts from 15 to 20 per cent greater this season—if the attendance is as big."
"But we are paying much bigger salaries—every club is. The cheapest ball contract I have calls for the expenditure of $6 a day for each player's room and meals while on the road. Bats cost $1.50 now. Formerly they were 75 cents. Balls cost twice as much. Bus hire is greater. Labor on the grounds and for office and park attendants is twice what it used to be. In fact, everything costs twice as much as it did."
"I don't believe there is one real fan in a big league town who wouldn't be willing to fork up the extra $10 it would cost him for attending practically every game of the season if he was told it was either pay more or lose the club. That is what it means to a fan who attends 70 out of a schedule of 77 games."
"Increases in salaries have been exorbitant. Many of the demands were unjustified."
"There are few ball clubs making money. Chicago and Detroit in the American League and New York and Pittsburgh in the National are financial successes. The others have their difficulties."
"Some of the losses have been great. I'm one of the poor men in baseball and I couldn't stand the losses that some of the big fellows have to stand."
"And yet the big fellows keep on in hopes they will turn the club into a success—some of them having lost as much as $100,000 a year."
Griffith's Ruppert
"Colonel Ruppert is a credit to baseball. He is one of the big men of the game. He made money one year at New York and lost heavily in the others. But he sticks manfully by the task of trying to give the fans a winner. He is what you might call one of the heroes of baseball. And there are, and have been, many others in the game, too, who didn't wear the uniform of the club, but who had to shoulder the financial worries and still smile on and try to give the fans a winner."

PEOPLE UNABLE TO PAY HIGH PRICES, U. S. AGENT HOLDS

CLAIM IS MADE BY HOWARD FIGG THAT PRICES WILL DROP IN APRIL—PROFITEERS JAIL

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Washington, D. C.—The high cost of living will fall in April because of the inability of people to pay high prices longer.
This is the opinion of Howard Figg, special assistant U. S. attorney general in charge of the federal campaign to lower prices. Figg made the prediction two months ago that prices would be down 25 per cent in April. In spite of the Bureau of Labor's figures showing they have climbed 5 per cent since Figg's prediction, the assistant attorney general still holds to the statement.
"People can no longer absorb high prices," Figg says. "I have first-hand information that retail sales in all lines are 20 to 25 per cent below normal. This means that prices must fall to move the goods from the shelves."
After wrestling with the problem a year Figg says six things caused the high cost of living. Increased volume of goods, decreased production, caused largely by shorter hours and war labor conditions, increased cost of distribution, extravagance and profiteering have boosted prices, Figg says.
"Congress will gradually restrict money and credits until normal balance is regained," Figg thinks. "Labor must come down from the clouds and work harder for less money. It would not be wise to lower wages too rapidly, but labor, from the lowest to the most skilled, must bend its back to increase production and overcome the extravagance that is depleting our stores."
The middleman who is responsible for increased distribution cost arouses Figg's ire.
"There are too many idle consumers and too many unnecessary mouths," he declares. "Too many find it easier to live toll than toll. Eliminate the middleman and broker."
Of extravagance, Figg said:
"Only the wealthy were sick stockings a few years ago. Now no washer woman is properly dressed without them."
Figg won't tell how many profiteers he has jailed or who they are.
"Nobody has the list but me and I'm not ready to make it public," he announced. "Fifteen hundred have been prosecuted and some are in jail. Profiteering accounts for some of our domestic ills, but its elimination is not a cure all."
"Everybody must help put down living cost. Advance production and stop extravagance—these are the real remedies."

SHORTAGE OF FREIGHT CARS HOLDS AUTOS AT DETROIT

(Special to Post-Crescent)

Detroit, Mich.—Because of a lack of freight cars and space in storage warehouses, hundreds of new automobiles are being stacked up in the yards of automobile manufacturers here.
Despite the fact that hundreds of cars are being driven away from the plants, the accumulation is growing. Manufacturers are covering the cars with canvas and hoping that an early spring will permit them to be driven away soon.
Automobile manufacturers deny the rumor that they will close down their plants because of lack of shipping facilities. Thousands of unfilled orders make closing unthinkable, they said.
As New York's first woman magistrate, Miss Jean Norris, will receive a salary of $8,000 a year.
Girl students at Smith College are being taught to take an automobile apart and put it together again.

SHERIFF TAKES GUN FROM MAN ON TRIAL IN DIVORCE CASE

JOSEPH SIMON TOTES SHOOTING IRON INTO COURT—STEP-BORNNESS LANDS HIM IN JAIL

The taking of testimony in the divorce case of Mary Simon vs. Joseph Simon which was tried in municipal court this morning was halted long enough for a loaded revolver to be taken from the defendant by V. R. Rule, sheriff. While on the stand the plaintiff charged her husband with having the weapon in his possession and a search was immediately ordered.

The plaintiff was granted a divorce and the court ordered the husband to pay the wife $20 of the $50 that he admitted having in his possession in court. This he refused to do, whereupon the court revoked the judgment for divorce and had the sheriff read a warrant to him for non-support which was issued some time ago, but had not been served. Upon being arraigned under that complaint he was remanded to jail to await his preliminary examination tomorrow morning.

Simon had been in jail only a few minutes before he changed his mind and his attorney so notified the court. He reappeared in the court room in a penitent mood and settled up all the claims against him in the action, which amounted to $100. He did this, he said, because he wanted to get rid of her.

In the course of her testimony the wife admitted that she occasionally landed on her better half whom she referred to as "her" and was confused by the court and attorneys until they, too, referred to him in the same way. The couple was married last October and separated in December.

WAGE ADJUSTMENT FOR RAIL WORKERS STARTS WEDNESDAY

MANY DIFFICULTIES ARE PRESENTED IN SETTLEMENT OF CONTROVERSY OVER PAY

By United Press—Leased Wire. Washington.—A bitration of the railroad wage controversy under the terms of the Esch-Cummins law will start here Wednesday. It was announced today.

Representatives of the railroads and of 2,000,000 union workers will meet here. The findings and recommendations of this joint commission must be ratified by the labor board and by the railroads. Negotiations for appointments of this board are being prepared by the unions and the railroads.

Representatives of the workers plan to present demands for increases ranging from 25 to 40 per cent and totaling nearly one billion dollars annually.

Negotiations probably will take several weeks. Framing railroad wage scales is a highly technical process upon which the now defunct railroad administration wage adjustment board worked from March to August without reaching a majority decision.

Railroad managers say the demands of the unions cannot be granted without a general freight and passenger rate increase. This, under the Esch-Cummins law, is prohibited before September. Government experts say a general railroad rate increase would automatically bring an advance in living costs. Union leaders deny this.

WISCONSIN MADE BEST FOOD RECORD IN WAR

By United Press—Leased Wire. Madison.—Marius Swenson, former chairman of the State Council of Defense, State Food Administrator and then food administrator for the Scandinavian countries under Herbert Hoover following the signing of the armistice, is in receipt of a letter from Mr. Hoover, declaring that Wisconsin has done more than any other state in the Union for relief of the suffering in Europe. The letter stated that the communication sent to all bankers in Wisconsin by Commissioner of Banking Marshall Cousins will be used by the banking department of every state in an effort to get the other states to follow the example set by Wisconsin.

CADADIAN CITY BEING ABSORBED BY RIVAL

(Special to Post-Crescent) Dodsland, Sask.—The town of Dodsland is dying. Dodsland is sizzling it up, brick by brick and timber after timber.

For years these towns, a mile and a half apart, have waged a vicious duel. Dodsland is on the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway and Dods is on the Canadian Pacific Railway. The two railways cross between the towns. The C. P. R. refused to make a stop at Dodsland because it stopped at Dods. Dodslanders suggested that the two towns rebuild themselves at the railway crossing, where both railways would make stops. Dodslanders refused. There was bitter argument for years.

"Very well," said Dodsland folk, finally. "It's a fight to the finish." Dodsland merchants climbed together and started the purchase of Dodsland. They bought a building here and a house there and now they are hauling them to Dodsland.

Before spring there won't be much of Dods left to pay for any railroad to maintain a station.

With the growing scarcity of feeder cattle and the advance in value of farm lands, the baby-bird industry is increasing in importance and is receiving the attention of farmers in all live stock sections of the country.

SOCIALISTS INVITE LABOR LEADERS TO NATIONAL CONFAB

DEMONSTRATIONS IN BEHALF OF DEBS AND MRS. O'HARE WILL BE HELD NEXT MONTH

By United Press—Leased Wire. Milwaukee.—The socialist national executive committee today voted for the first time in the history of the party to invite the international labor organizations to attend the national convention of the party, and to participate in the national campaign.

The committee also voted today to recommend the holding of demonstrations in the form of mass meetings and speechmaking on April 13 and 14, the anniversaries of the sending to prison of Kate Richards O'Hare and Eugene V. Debs. The committee voted to re-open the case of Mrs. O'Hare with the aim of obtaining her release from prison. Members of the committee are to confer with her husband, Jack O'Hare, at Chicago tomorrow.

It has been voted to postpone the national convention scheduled for New York for May 1 to May 8, to enable leaders to participate in May Day demonstrations throughout the country.

This afternoon the committee was to take up platform recommendations. The meeting of the committee closes with a luncheon this evening and will adjourn to Chicago tomorrow.

A committee composed of James O'Neal Brooklyn; George Rower, Boston, and William Henry, Indianapolis, has been named to act for the committee when a decision is reached in the case of the five socialist assemblymen on trial before the New York legislature.

WETS SEEK PLEDGES TO VOTE AGAINST DRY LAWS

Organization is Being Formed to Wage Political War Against Men Who Favor Prohibition

By George B. Waters. (Special to Post-Crescent) Washington, D. C.—The wet forces will try to repeal the prohibition amendment to the federal constitution. With offices opened in the Munsey Building here, they are organizing a "secret" society to defeat all senators and congressmen who will not vote to get the 18th amendment re-submitted to the states.

The wet organization, in a confidential letter sent out to favored wets, says it is going to "take a lesson from the Anti-Saloon League." The only way in which its organization differs from the pros who made the country dry is membership in the new society will be kept secret if requested by the member.

Its work is to be on the order of the Non-Partisan League. No politics, no sectarianism, but it will concentrate in trying to make the national congress and state legislatures wet. Organized on the order of a Kluge Klan, members will take the following pledge: "I hereby pledge my word that so long as I remain a member of this league I will not vote for any candidate for the office of United States senator or member of Congress or member of the legislature unless such candidate approves or promises that he will favor the repeal of the prohibition amendment to the federal constitution."

MUST INSPECT BEES FOR BADGER STATE

WISCONSIN INSPECTION LAW IS MAKING THINGS UNCOMFORTABLE FOR SOUTH-EASTERN STATES

(Special to Post-Crescent.)
Madison, Wis.—Wisconsin's apiculture laws are making trouble for beekeepers of the southern states according to reports received by the state department of agriculture. A great many bees from southern states have been shipped into Wisconsin in the past.

It has been customary for southern beekeepers to ship bees in two or three pound packages to customers in the northern states who found that this was the most profitable method of increasing their apiaries. Under the new Wisconsin law it is necessary that such shippers either attach an inspection certificate to their packages of bees or secure a permit from the state department of agriculture.

In order to protect Wisconsin beekeepers from bee diseases which have often come in by this means, Dr. S. B. Fracker, acting state entomologist, has taken up with the entomologists of Alabama and with the beekeepers of that state the desirability of providing apiary inspection laws. A movement in that direction is being started and will be presented to the next legislature of Alabama. One or two other southern states will doubtless follow.

At present the state department of agriculture is supplying special permits for individual sales to Wisconsin which are good until the first of July. After that time the southern beekeepers will be expected to arrange with the state or government experts for inspection certificates, if they wish to sell to Wisconsin beekeepers. Applications for permits for the shipment of several thousand packages into Wisconsin this spring have already been received.

Andrew Pribnow, convicted in Clark county July 11, 1917, for second degree murder and sentenced to 15 years in state prison. A hearing was to have been held last month but his attorney asked permission to file further documents and petitions and the case was postponed to March.

Madison, Wis.—The railroad commission issued a decision ordering the Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie Railway Co. to pay $1,000 toward the cost of relocating highway No. 14 in Barron county. The relocation is on the route between Barron and

Poskin, and the commission finds that the new highway will divert the traffic from existing railway crossings so that it will be unnecessary for the railroad to provide further protection at these crossings for a number of years, and that the maintenance of the present crossings will be less costly to the railway company owing to the diverting of traffic, and further that the liability of the company to expense in connection with crossing accidents will be reduced.

BANK SELLS FARMERS DYNAMITE AT COST

Irishwood, Wis.—In order to aid farmers and settlers throughout this section in securing sufficient dynamite at a price in reach of all desiring explosives for land clearing purposes, the Citizens' State Bank of Irishwood has arranged to supply dynamite at cost to farmers. The bank offers 20 per cent dynamite for $14.50, 30 per cent dynamite for $15.75, and the 40 per cent variety for $17. Among farmers, the 20 per cent dynamite is the most favorable because it leaves the smallest stump hole and has almost the same effect as other more powerful types.

POLICE CHECK WORLD TRIP OF TWO BOYS

Schuyman, Wis.—Joseph Pelmeyer, 17, and Clarence Carlitz, 13, Milwaukee youths, came to this city on a Milwaukee Northern trolley car and were picked up by police on suspicion. On the person of young Pelmeyer was found a caliber .38 revolver, with cartridges. The boys said they went out to "see the world" and thought they would "take in" Schuyman first. ASHLAND FREE FROM SMALLPOX THIS YEAR

Ashland, Wis.—There has not been a single case of smallpox in the city of Ashland this winter, according to sanitary officer, William Hyland. Over a hundred cases of the disease were treated at Olanah, only eight miles from Ashland, but not a single case reached here. There are some measles in the city, and there were a number of cases of scarlet fever, about fifteen families having been quarantined, but this disease is nearly wiped out in the city now.

EAU CLAIRE BARBERS BOOST THEIR PRICES

Eau Claire, Wis.—The high cost of male pruning will cost more in Eau Claire beginning Monday, March 8. A decree has gone forth from the master barbers that on and after that date haircuts will retail for 50 cents per and shaves 25 cents. The present schedule calls for 40 and 20 cents respectively.

Increased costs of materials, general living costs, etc., are given as reasons for the boost. The present rates were fixed some months ago, coming up from 35 cents for haircuts and 15 cents for shaves.

ROSE NOT TO SEEK OLD POST AS MAYOR

Milwaukee, Wis.—Ex-Mayor David S. Rose announces that he will not be a candidate for Milwaukee.

"It has been understood all along that I would not be a candidate if it were necessary to make a fight in the primary," Mr. Rose said. "The suggestions that I should be a candidate came from local parties. I told them that unless I could receive the endorsement of both committees and go through the primary without a contest I would not enter the race. It now appears that there will be a primary fight, with the usual bitterness, and I have decided not to run."

WILKINSON IS SICK; WON'T BE CANDIDATE

Eau Claire, Wis.—Senator A. H. Wilkinson of Bayfield, Wis., who is in a local hospital where he underwent a minor operation, will not be a candidate at-large to the republican national convention in June. He made the announcement from his bed here. It is presumed that his operation is the principal reason for his withdrawal. The senator was considered a strong candidate for delegate-at-large and it was announced sometime ago that he would run.

COLLEGE AVENUE SNOW DRIFT CAUSES ACCIDENT

A driver whose name was not ascertained, narrowly escaped injury Saturday morning when his cutter overturned at corner of College avenue and Morrison streets. He was driving a spirited horse at a rapid rate down the avenue, and in turning north on Morrison the cutter skidded and turned over. The progress of the horse was halted when he plunged into a snow bank and was caught by a passerby, who assisted in extricating the driver from his plight. The fact that the cutter had a top over it is what prevented any injury beyond a shake-up.

MRS. ALICE MCCLUSKEY, prominent Lewiston woman, who says she wishes she could have gotten Tanlac twenty years ago, as it would have saved her lots of suffering. Declares she is now well and happy and that she wants everybody to know about it.

"I have been trying for twenty long years to find a medicine that would overcome my troubles, but my efforts failed completely until I commenced taking Tanlac." was the remarkable statement made recently by Mrs. Alice McCluskey, residing at No. 66 Park Street, Lewiston, Me., a well-known and most highly respected woman of that city.

"I just feel like I would give the world to meet everyone who suffers as I did and tell them about this medicine. If I could only have gotten Tanlac twenty years ago it would have saved me a lot of suffering and money."

"My principal trouble was indigestion, and for many years I could not eat meat or pastries for I would always suffer afterward. I would always have a distressed feeling after eating and nothing seemed to agree with me. Then, to add to the rest of my suffering, I contracted rheumatism in my shoulders and hips and the awful pains I suffered can never be told in words. This trouble finally got so bad I could hardly walk and my arms pained me so I could scarcely raise my hands to my head. I even had to give up my housework and was hardly able to get around at all."

"You can imagine how happy I was when, after taking only a few bottles of Tanlac, I found such a wonderful improvement in my condition! Why, it was just the medicine I needed all the time and I continued taking it until now I am perfectly well again. I can truthfully say that I am enjoying as good health now as I ever had in all my life. I have gained about 14 pounds in weight and can again do all my housework without the least trouble. I don't get tired like I did and after doing my work I can get out and walk for blocks and feel just fine when I get back home. I earnestly advise everyone who suffers as I did to take Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Appleton by John E. Voigt and by leading druggists in every town.

GET LINE ON CITY'S HOUSING SITUATION

QUESTIONNAIRES IN HANDS OF SURVEY COMMITTEE ARE RAPIDLY FILLED OUT.

There is already tangible evidence of the crying need for houses in Appleton. The questionnaires in the hands of the survey committee are being filled out in growing numbers
by those who want to build homes for themselves. Telephone calls are also being received requesting information regarding the procedure for making the wants of the prospects known.

R. E. Cornercross, chairman of the committee, wants it understood by the people that they are not signing
an order for a house when they fill out a questionnaire. All it amounts to is saying that they are interested in considering such a move in case a housing corporation is organized. It is answering the question: "How big must a housing company be in order to fully meet Appleton's needs? The answers to it will be based on the number of questionnaires filled out.

Those who have not voiced their needs are expected to call at the following real estate offices within the next day or two: R. E. Cornercross, P.
A. Kornely, D. P. Steinberg, Edward
P. Alesch, and D. E. Vaughn.

WOMEN OPPOSED TO LEGION AUXILIARY

FAIR SEX DO NOT WANT INDI-VIDUALITY LOST BY BEING HANGERS-ON OF AMER-ICAN LEAGUE

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Washington, D. C.—Leaders of the American Legion are reported to be unsuccessful in their efforts to organize women into auxiliaries to each legion post.

"Auxiliaries are too old-fashioned,"
say the women.

The majority of those women who are eligible to membership in such auxiliaries have already organized themselves into independent national bodies such as the American Women's Legion, the Service Star Women and the War Mothers.

"While it is our purpose to aid in every way members of the American Legion and all ex-service men," says
Miss Byrd Meek, founder and executive secretary of the American Women's Legion, "we do not want to become mere hangers-on and to lose our identity."

"The organization of which I am founder was formed on the first anniversary of our entrance into the war, at the University of California, and it antedates the formation of the American Legion itself in Paris. The fact that our name is similar is merely a coincidence. Eligibility to membership in our organization is based on relationship to ex-service men and to women who served in the war with our armies."

Mrs. H. R. Dunlap, wife of Colonel Dunlap, now residing in Washington, was one of the organizers of the American Women's Legion originally formed with chapters throughout the east. This organization has lately joined hands with the one of the same name formed in California. Mrs. Dunlap is also opposed to the formulation of auxiliaries.

"Membership in an auxiliary organization would necessitate relationship to a member of the American Legion, and would not be broad enough to include mothers, wives and sisters of men who served in the war, but who do not happen to be members of the American Legion," she says.

"I think the auxiliary idea is not in keeping with the trend of the times where women are concerned. I believe we can do bigger things if we are not hampered by rules and regulations that the American Legion may set down for us."

CABLE SCHOOL PUPILS DIPHThERIA CARRIERS

Superior, Wis.—That every child in the schools of Cable, Wis., is at least a carrier of diphtheria germs if it has not got the disease is indicated in tests made by Allen Watson, state chemist, after tests made in the laboratory in Superior.

Many cases of the disease have been reported at Cable. The school board became alarmed and had a swab taken from each school child's nose and throat. Swabs of 101 children examined by Mr. Watson were all found to be positive.

It is possible to have diphtheria
germs without having the disease, according to Dr. P. G. McGill, city health officer. He stated that in his opinion

many of the children were carriers of the disease. The tests were ordered made in order to determine what measures should be taken to prevent the further advance of the Women From Girlhood Through Motherhood and Past Middle-Life

Twining, Mich.—"We have used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery as a general tonic medicine. When any of us didn't feel right we would use a bottle, or two, and would be all right. When I was passing through middle life, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was my refuge in time of trial. I passed through that most critical time of life without any trouble. I live on a farm and do all of the work a woman has to do without any help and can walk four or five miles and not be any the worse for it.

"At the time my daughter was developing I gave her 'Favorite Prescription' and prior to that the 'Golden Medical Discovery' as she was a delicate girl, and it always benefited her.

"We have also used the little 'Pellets' with good results."—MRS. S. A. DOUGLAS, Route 2, Box 93.

Fond-du-Lac, Wis.—"When I was a girl going to school I got all run down and weak due to hard studying. About the time I was coming into womanhood I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it built me up in fine shape in just a short space of time. I also took it a few years ago during expectancy and it helped me wonderfully. I had comparatively no suffering and my baby was strong and healthy and has always been 'Favorite Prescription' has done wonders for me. I think it is the only medicine for weak women or women who are in delicate condition."—MRS. C. GUELL, R.R. 200 9th St.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a non-alcoholic remedy that any ailing woman can safely take because it is prepared from roots and herbs containing tonic properties of the most pronounced character. Send Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., ten cents for trial package of tablets.

Fluffy Heroines Of Novels Follow Villan Of Movies

Short Story Writer Avers Heroine of Today is Too Busy Working to Bother Much About Fluffs and Ruffles

By United Press Licensed Wire
New York.—The day of the gentle and fluffy heroine has passed with that of the much bewhiskered villain according to Sophie Kerr, short story writer.

"Heroines of this advanced day are business women, strong minded and full of character," Miss Kerr said today.

"They of course, only reflect the economic condition of the times.

"When women changed from fluffy decorations of the household, done up in ribbons and served to their prospective husbands on a dish of simplicity with a garnish of reserve, then the heroines changed too.

"The advanced relationship of men and women of today reflect in our stories. Heroines today love more quickly and more often than the heroines of 50 years ago. The flamin of today could have stolen a modern Ophelia away in an airplane. Now it would not matter whether Ophelia worked behind a ribbon counter or on a milk wagon but in the Elizabethan age she had to be of royalty to be a heroine.

"In the puritanic age, heroines were all slim princesses who 'theed' and 'thoud' their way to the heart of the hero, hiding their real thoughts behind an innocent complexion, while now it is perfectly proper to rouge ones way to love.

"During the revolution in America and for a good time after, heroine were still women of reserve whose only duty it was to sacrifice for men. In the world war they were much more cosmopolitan.

"But since the first romance of Sir Adam and Lady Eve in the garden a sameness in the spirit of hero and heroines can be traced down through the doings of Venus and Adonis; Cleopatra and Anthony; Romeo and Juliet; Sidney Carson, Beatrice Annabel Lee and the love artists of the present day.

"The fluffy heroine has passed—she is too busy working to tie blue ribbon bows about her throat."

NO GRAND STAND PARADE WHEN THIS LAW IS PASSED

Legion Approves Clause in Wadsworth Bill Which Will Prevent Dress Parades and Bomb Proofs Jobs at Capital

By George D. Waters
(Special to Post-Crescent)

Washington, D. C.—During the war there was much talk about army officers swarming to the national capital. There was talk about pink teas in the afternoons at the Willard and of the dress parades on Pennsylvania avenue and Post. Congressman Cannon sarcastically remarked that they wore spurs to keep their feet from sliding off the mahogany desks.

The Wadsworth bill for the reorganization of the army, now pending, contains an echo of those fighting days. It says:

"Unless the president declares that an emergency exists which requires otherwise, no officer assigned to or commissioned in the infantry, cavalry, field artillery, coast artillery, signal corps, or the air corps shall be placed on duty in the District of Columbia or the headquarters of any territorial department, except with troops stationed thereat, for a period of more than three months, unless the preceding seven years he shall have actually served two years on duty with a troop, company, battery, battalion, squadron, regiment, brigade, division, army corps, or army or other corresponding organization; or with the training forces."

A proviso is that this shall not prevent an officer being placed on duty at any of the several service schools. This is in the bill approved to the American Legion.

THAT KNIFE-LIKE PAIN

Is Only One of Nature's Warnings of Weak or Disordered Kidneys.

Have you a lame back, aching day and night? Do you feel sharp pains after stooping? Are the kidneys sore? Is their action irregular? Use Doan's Kidney Pills—the medicine recommended by so many Appleton people. Read this case:

Emil Baerenwald, retired farmer, 992 Lawe St., Appleton, says: "About six years ago I had an awful backache, which got so bad that when I stooped over, I couldn't straighten up. Sharp pains caught me like the work of a knife and bothered me in my work. My kidneys weren't acting right, being out of order, and I was in pretty bad shape. My back was lame and stiff mornings, too. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and used two boxes, which removed the backache and other troubles. I haven't suffered since."

NAME MEANS NOTHING IN CENSUS RECORDS

All Names Are Destroyed After Information Is Transferred from Enumeration Sheets to Official Records

(Special to Post-Crescent)

Washington, D. C.—Names mean nothing at all in the job of counting noses in the United States for the 1920 census.

You have a name when you come into the big barn-like building where 4,000 clerks are tabulating you and about 110,000,000 like you.

Very soon, though, you become nothing but a card with a lot of holes punched in it. You have sex, age, nationality and a lot of other things, but no name.

Your card is just as important, yet as anonymous as the president's. In the Census Bureau the president isn't Woodrow Wilson. He is merely a white man, born in America, living in Washington, head of a family, English-speaking and able to read and write.

Neither king's horses nor king's men could drag your name out of the Census Bureau. Draft officials in 1917 tried it and failed. The Census Bureau gave General Crowder lots of information about the number of men between certain ages living in certain areas. But when the slacker drive was on and Gen. Crowder, with the war when the slacker drive was on and General Crowder, with the whole War Department back of him, tried to get names to check up against enlistments and draftees the Census Bureau called his attention to the law.

It's not only against the law to give out such information, but enumeration sheets carrying names are destroyed after the information has been transferred to cards.

GRAY BROTHERS FIGHT BOLSHEVISM IN PRISONS

(Special to Post-Crescent)

New York—Who is the Gray Brother?

His warm, human influence is being felt among the 500,000 prisoners in American jails, yet only a few of his aides, ex-convicts themselves, know Gray Brother's name or his abode.

One must be a felon to enter the Gray Brotherhood. There are 18,000 members now, a spokesman of the brotherhood says, and these members are exerting their powers to stamp down the spread of Bolshevism in the penal institutions of the country.

Radicals are said to be deliberately seeking prison terms that they may spread their doctrines among men who are fertile field for their purposes because they feel the law has treated them harshly.

Prison reform to make prisoners understand that the law punishes and does not prosecute is an aim of the Gray Brother.

SURVEY COMMITTEE IS STARTING ITS WORK

Assistance Can Be Given by Calling on Members of Committee and Making Known the Housing Needs

If you want to build a home on terms that will be no higher than present rent rates, or if you have contemplated building a home yourself and want the assistance of a housing corporation, call at any of the following real estate offices to day and fill out a questionnaire outlining your needs: R. E. Carneross, P. A. Kornely, D. P. Steinberg, D. E. Vaughn, Edward P. Alesch.

The above men represent the survey committee of the Appleton housing movement, and with the information which the public gives, them, they will prepare recommendations to the committee on formulating a building corporation. You are not obligated in any way by filling out the blank. On what you report depends the scope of the movement for overcoming the house shortage.

NOT ENOUGH RELIEF IN CENTRAL EUROPE

FAMILIES ARE Huddled TOGETHER IN BOX CARS TRYING TO BRING LACK OF COMFORTS

By Zoe Beckley
(Special to Post-Crescent)

Budapest—On the left bank of the Danube, which now belongs to Czechoslovakia, I took a deep breath of clean, cold, outside air. I dreaded the dirt and stuffiness within the freight car house I stood before.

But the two-room freight car home was as neat and clean as a New England kitchen. The air was warm and wholesome.

The mother and three small boys welcomed me to a styrofoam beyond the stove and from the bedroom beyond a partition the father tried to smile a greeting, although he was so weak from pneumonia that he could not raise his hand.

This family, like all others, receives 100 kronen, about 40 cents, a month from the city of Budapest. The American Child Fund gives the children a meal a day of soup and rice or cocoa and bread, while the American Red Cross finds clothing for the most needy cases, but this aid is like sweeping back a river—no matter how large and good your brooms are, they are never enough to stem the torrent.

You feed 1,000 children a day, yet 2,000 still stand outside with tears in their eyes and nothing in their stomachs. You put shoes and stockings on 100 pair of bare feet, but there are no shirts for bare little backs.

There is never food enough, clothing enough, medicine enough, work enough—anything enough.

In one freight car lives a family from Hungary. A father and two little girls are trying to "stick it out" since the mother lost the battle with cold and hunger and closed her tired eyes forever. She was buried from the freight car shanty.

It is tragic that these children, already infected with the dread white plague, cannot get enough food.

The father, formerly a railway executive, tries to care for his babies and to teach them at night. He works for $1.50 a day, and is too too-tired at night to help them much. With only a freight car to call "home," no mother for his children and no adequate work he is fast losing heart.

He is but one of the thousands who lift their hands to America for aid.

The membership of the Woman's City Club, in Detroit, Mich., has about reached the 3000 mark.

HUGE TIMBER CUT MAY REDUCE LUMBER PRICES

John Tracy has returned from a several days' business trip to the north-never saw so many logs piled up along the railroad track waiting to be shipped and predicts that it will take the greater part of the summer to move them. The winter has been an especially good one of logging and the prospects are that the lumber situation will be somewhat relieved as soon as the logs can be gotten to the saw mills. They are already commencing to be shipped. Owing to the high price of maple flooring, over $200 per 1,000 feet, farmers along the railroads north of Appleton are converting all their maple trees into lumber and also all the oak timber on their premises. Very little timber is being spared on some of the farms.

JOB SHOULD NOT BE SMALLER THAN MAN, DR. M'AFEE AVERS

PROMINENT PRESBYTERIAN CLERGYMAN DEFINES QUALITIES ESSENTIAL TO SUCCESS

A conscious acceptance of sacrifice and identification with an enterprise big enough to demand their best are two factors that gain power for men, Dr. C. B. McAfee of the McCormick Theological Seminary, Chicago, said in his address "Life Power," at the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon.

Dr. McAfee addressed four meetings in Appleton Sunday. In the morning he spoke at the Presbyterian church. In the afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. and in the evening he addressed the college Y. M. C. A. men, and spoke at the union service.

The meeting at the Y. M. C. A. was attended by a good crowd. Preceding Dr. McAfee's address there was an excellent musical program and sing. John Vincent of the Lawrence College Boy's Glee club, was the soloist. George V. Werner led the song service.

"Man should be linked up with an enterprise big enough to demand him at his best," the speaker said. "I give this advice to young men particularly, if you are not linked up with such an enterprise, move to something else. Learn to think of your work as embracing world interests, and not merely as a petty task. Think of how far an influence your work is. 'So long as your tasks are petty, you will never be at your best. A man must never take up a thing smaller than himself.'"

Learn not to avoid the difficult tasks of life, the speaker urged. A man must give himself up to the things which require conscientious effort and sacrifice.

The qualities of self-assertion and sacrifice, made men like Lincoln, Moses, Napoleon, and Luther, great men. These men embraced their opportunities by thinking big, and by bravely facing the obstacles which they faced instead of shirking from their duty and being satisfied to continue in the path of being satisfied.

More men of power are needed in the world today, men of vision and ability, Dr. McAfee declared.

The men's bible study class met following the afternoon meeting. Prof. Weston led the discussion. A luncheon was served. There was a good attendance.

BOTTOMLEY TAKES CRACK AT AMERICA

EDITOR OF "JOHN BULL" RAPS ANTI-BRITISH PROPAGANDA AND SAYS WE'LL STEAL CANADA

By Milton Bonner (Special to Post-Crescent) London.—Anti-British propaganda in the United States is causing a kick from the Great Britains.

"America's Insult to Our Dead" and "More Swank from Uncle Sam" are two very unpleasant newspaper vendor's posters I saw on all sides in London the other day.

The concern responsible for this is a weekly paper named "John Bull" which is said to have a sale numbering hundreds of thousands.

Its editor is the pugnacious, temperamental Horatio Bottomley, who wields a savage pen and who apparently is never happier than when picturing himself in the attitude of the typical John Bull of caricature, satisfied with himself, his island and his empire and defying all comers and especially the bumptious Uncle Sam.

During the war "John Bull" had a regular bureau of inquiry to which the dependents of soldiers could apply for aid when the government was slow in sending them their separation allowances. "John Bull" prodded the officials and got the money for the families of soldiers. Naturally they swear by the paper.

Bottomley's article on "more swank from Uncle Sam" is partially based upon General Pershing's recent report in which he told of the splendid work done by the American army.

And he winds up with a warning to Canada to beware of Uncle Sam's designs. He foresees the time when the United States will invite Canada to join the union.

Bottomley in appearance is just as mischievous as his writings. He has founded several newspapers. He has been involved in several lawsuits. In these he successfully conducted his own case and is generally regarded as the best "lay lawyer" in England.

FORMER APPLETON GIRL IS SCHOOL PAPER ARTIST

Eau Claire.—Miss Bernice Nichols, former Appleton high school girl and now a senior at the Eau Claire Normal, has been chosen chief of the staff of artists engaged in illustrating the school's year-book, "The Periscope." She is well qualified for the work as she has specialized in art and is considered one of the best students in this line that the art department has turned out since the establishment of the school four years ago.

Miss Nichols is active in school affairs generally. She is secretary of the Kodakway camp fire girls and is prominent in the home economics club. She has also taken part in the dramatic and musical programs of the school and has been a member of the school annual staff for two consecutive years.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Nichols who were until two years ago residents of Appleton. The family now resides in Eau Claire. Miss Nichols is preparing to teach art in the upper elementary grades. She will graduate in June.

NEW FLU EPIDEMIC DUE IN DECEMBER 1921, DOCTORS SAY

INVESTIGATIONS OF DR. JOHN BROWNLEE SHOW THAT DIS-EASE RECURS IN 34-WEEK CYCLE.

(Special to Post-Crescent.)

Washington, D. C.—With the subsidence of the present influenza outbreak, the world may breathe easily for a while. The next violent epidemic will occur in December, 1921.

This is the conclusion from the investigations made by Dr. John Brownlee, who predicted in the London Lancet last November that there would be a recurrence of influenza in January and February of this year.

Medical authorities of the Public Health Service here say that Dr. Brownlee has probably reduced what is called the "periodicity" of influenza to a known law. Dr. Brownlee's investigations seem to show that influenza occurs at regular intervals of 33 weeks, providing the 33rd week does not fall between June and December, in which case the recurrence might be expected at the end of 66 weeks or 99 weeks.

In other words, influenza is a "cold weather" infection. The germ which is responsible for it apparently does not thrive in warm or hot weather—or rather it loses its virulent power, or becomes "attenuated," as the physicians say.

Same as Gripe Records.

The Fidelity Mutual Life Insurance company has checked up Dr. Brownlee's discovery by going over the influenza and pneumonia death records of the United States in a number of selected cities. The result confirms the discovery of the 33-66-99-week cycle. Further, this investigation showed that the same thing was true of the "gripe" records from 1890 to 1922.

Influenza epidemics began in the United States in September, 1918.

The epidemic's peak was reached the week of October 26. Thirty-three weeks from that time would have brought a recurrence in June, 1919, but as June was a hot month, the germ was evidently not able to resume operations. From mid-June, 1919, to the end of January, 1920, was exactly 33 weeks, or 66 weeks from the 1918 plague. In the last week of January, this year, influenza reached its peak. The death chart of gripe epidemics in 1890-1893, shows the same cycles.

When Next?

When will the next attack occur? Here is the past record:

October, 1918, cold weather, serious epidemic.

May, 1919, mild attack, warm weather.

January, 1920, cold weather, severe attack.

Now for the future:

September, 1920, warm, should have a light attack only.

April, 1921, spring weather, a mild attack only.

We are, therefore, according to this law of Brownlee's, safe from a severe recurrence of influenza and pneumonia until December, 1921. By that time, it is possible the health authorities will have been able to isolate the germ and apply truly remedial measures.
